FLOOD ISOLATES INDIANA TOWN

WALTER CAMP, who "kept fit" himself, and taught the rest of us how to do so, died suddenly at the comparatively youthful age of 66, while Chauncey M. Depew, who has eaten three generations of dinners-out into their graves is still hale and hearty at 90. The moral of which is—there isn't any "Keeping fit" is good. So are the pleasures of life. Some people can survive a hundred years of either of them. Some can't.

Anyhow, it is fine to live in an age when death at 66 can be called "premature." It is not so long since a man of fifty was "venerable" and his wife "elderly." Now granny's granddaughter, at the same age, bobs her hair, abbreviates her skirts and wins the golf championship. It is not the mere postponement of death that is important. What difference does it make whether we die at fifty or at a hundred? If all we do meantime is to stay alive? A Galapagos turtle can beat us at that by centuries. But it does make a lot of difference that we can stay young while we live. Fifty years is scarcely enough to learn how. It is the still flexible years after that which count most. The lengthening and the freshening of these is the chief gift of the modern age.

FOR the champion of recklessness, commend us to James McLaughlin, of Manchester, New Hampshire, who sat down on a box of dynamite and tossed a lighted cigarette into an adjacent powder keg. But there was only one of him, and he exterminated only himself. How about the whole legions of lunatics who seat themselves in high-power motor cars and toss booze into their stomachs? The combination is quite as explosive, and more promiscuously fatal. Dynamite slays its tens. Booze and gasoline slay their ten thousands.

RADICALS of every sort always "represent the people." But the people, somehow, do not know it. The latest example is the by-election in Ireland, in which the Free State won seven of the nine seats. The Sinn Fein irreconcilable "people of Ireland," but the people of Ireland turn them down. It is the same in America, where Debs complains that the radical party is conservative; where the laborers defeat the "labor" ticket, most of the farmers are against the farm bloc, and nearly all the proletariat uphold the capitalist system. Our reactionaries, who are afraid of too much government by the people, should read the election returns. The surest safeguard of conservatism is democracy.

"I KNOW when I am licked; I know when somebody is better than I am," says Will Rogers, conceding the palm of champion entertainer to Charles G. Dawes. To make the story complete, Will Rogers has induced the rest of the Follies to abdicate in favor of the senate. Then we should have had an all-star cast. And Dawes shares with Rogers at least this quality. They both tell serious truth in jesting guise.

PARLIAMENTARY procedure owes a debt of gratitude to Senator Ernst of Kentucky. He has established an invaluable precedent. When he thought his honor impugned by Senator Couzens, the Kentucky senator did not hurl fighting language at his detractor. He merely arose and inquired of the presiding officer whether it would be parliamentary to call a senator a "wifely, malicious wicked liar." Of course he got no answer, and was promptly suspended from further debate. But the experiment suggests interesting possibilities. "Mr. President, I know that the rules of the senate do not permit me to refer to the honorable senator who has just spoken as a liar, a thief, and a person of decrepit intellect, and I will therefore not do so. I wish, however, to respond to the greater experience of the presiding officer in the inquiry in what parliamentary language these sentiments can be expressed."

FLEET LEAVES FOR PRACTICE AT WAR
SAN PEDRO, March 23.—Approximately 100 ships of the U. S. battle fleet, the largest ever assembled in Pacific waters, steamed away from the local harbor shortly after daybreak today for San Clemente islands for the first rehearsal of force firing.
Eleven battleships, 54 destroyers, eight cruisers and 28 auxiliary craft comprise the imposing armada which will unleash its guns in mimic warfare 70 miles off shore here Wednesday.
The fleet attained full strength for the maneuvers last night with arrival of 51 destroyers of the battle fleet and the scouting fleet from San Diego.
The combined fleet will remain here until the end of force practice Wednesday night, when the destroyer squadrons will return to San Diego. On April 3, the destroyers will again return to the local harbor to join the flag of Admiral Robert E. Coontz, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet for the

CLEAR WAY FOR TAX CUT AND PARLEY

President Coolidge Will Devote Recess to Work On Two Major Policies PLANS BEING DRAFTED
Hope For Washington Arms Conference Is Seen For Coming Summer, Report

WASHINGTON, March 23.—With congress out of the way for the summer, President Coolidge plans to devote the months of his recess to the advancement of the two major policies of his administration.

These are the drafting of a new tax reduction program and the calling of a second Washington naval arms limitation conference.

There are many other lesser tasks facing his administration, but the President regards these two as all important.

Already he has been informed the treasury estimates of surpluses have been borne out by preliminary receipts from the new tax act, thus making his suggested program of tax reduction feasible.

Under the direction of the President, the treasury is working on a tax reduction program for submission to congress. In preliminary talks with Secretary Mellon, the President plans to draft a tax plan which he will stand behind personally.

Meanwhile, the President is conferring almost daily with Secretary of State Kellogg on the proposed arms conference. Much activity is at the moment upon the security pact negotiations now in progress in Europe. If that is agreed upon, it is believed here nothing further will stand in the way of the President calling a second Washington naval arms conference this summer.

U. S. TO CHARGE MOVIE FOLK WITH EVADING INCOME TAX

High-Salaried Actors In List Government Will Investigate

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—High-salaried motion picture folk were reported involved today in a federal investigation here designed to result in a roundup of scores of alleged income tax evaders.

More than $10,000,000 in back taxes are being sought by the federal agents who have been conducting an "under-cover" investigation here on orders from Washington.

An indictment has already been returned against Al G. Barnes, the circus owner, for alleged tax evasion, and others were said to be imminent.

A number of Hollywood stars are known to have made huge profits in real estate investments in addition to their film earnings, and in some cases these extra profits were never reported, federal agents charge.

TO PROBE DEATH OF N. Y. BANKER
NEW YORK, March 23.—An autopsy was ordered today to determine the cause of the sudden death last night of Louis S. Frankel, 74, retired banker.

Frankelheimer came home last evening and called a doctor, reporting that he had been beaten and robbed while more than a mile from his home.

"They beat me and tossed me over a fence to die," the aged man told his physician.

A short time later he began sinking and died while physicians were taking him to a hospital.

FARMERETTE STARTS SUIT FOR $50,000

Arden Forest Ranchwoman Claims Damages In Pipe Line Dispute, May, 1923

DENIES GUN THREATS
Declares She Was Falsely Arrested; Malice Is Denied By Modjeska Ranch

MRS. Virginia Lee Cookson, pretty ranchwoman from the Forest of Arden, who says she was humiliated, embarrassed and hampered by publicity given her arrest two years ago on a charge of breaking a pipe line, today started her fight in court for $50,000 damages against the Modjeska Ranch company.

The arrest, which followed sensational newspaper accounts of a determined farmerette, with pretty face but menacing eye, holding off all comers with a shotgun, while she sat astride a disputed pipe line, occurred May 23, 1923. Today, on the witness stand, Mrs. Cookson denied the "last stand" story. She never threatened anybody with a gun, she said.

She also claims that she was falsely arrested on the pipe line charge, which she points out, was later dismissed. She accuses the Modjeska Ranch company and Charles H. Mann, of Long Beach, its vice president and manager, with maliciously causing her arrest without probable cause.

In their defense, Mann and the ranch company deny malice or lack of probable cause. The charge, preferred by Mann, was filed on advice of the district attorney that a public offense had been committed, and was dismissed. It was alleged that the purpose of settling that on Peruvia, Cookson, in sinuated and 500 others driven from their homes to prevent them voting at the plebiscite.

Deputy Maclean read telegrams detailing these reported incidents. The chamber voted to send a sample of the telegrams to the foreign office and that a protest be made to Chile.

The plebiscite was ordered under the recent decision of President Coolidge of the United States in the long-standing dispute between Chile and Peru over control of the provinces.

BOOZE RAIDERS DRY UP 4 WIDE-OPEN DESERT TOWNS

MOHAVE, Calif., March 23.—Four Mohave desert towns, noted for their "wetness," were completely dried up today, following a series of raids by prohibition sleuths from three Southern California counties.

Traveling 800 miles, largely over desert country, the dry caravan arrested and fined more than a score of bootleggers, completely "mopping up" the "wide-open" towns of Inn City, Tehachapi, Randasburg and Mohave. The officers came from Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Kern counties.

Bootleggers had been plying their trade for months in the desert territory, free from the visits of dry agents. An investigator who preceded the raiding party claimed he made more than 100 purchases of hooch in the "arid" district.

2 ARE KILLED AND 3 HURT IN MOTOR WRECK
RAIDERS' TRIAL
NORWALK, Cal., March 23.—Two persons were killed and three others injured today when their automobile overturned on Telegraph road, near here. After overturning, the machine burst into flames and burned to ashes.

The dead: MRS. O. H. MILLER, 35, Hollywood. The injured: MRS. MARJORIE PIKE CHESMAN, 27, Los Angeles. O. H. Miller, insurance broker, Hollywood. Dwight Miller, 19-year-old son, W. D. Chessman, Los Angeles.

The bodies of the women were recovered from the burning wreckage and the three occupants rescued by passing motorists. Miller, who was driving, said he was blinded by the headlights on another machine and crashed into a concrete buttress. He was badly hurt and bruised, but his injuries were not serious.

Dwight, the son, was more critically injured and probably will die.

WILL REPORT ON NEW BUDGET BILL
SACRAMENTO, March 23.—With all the major problems and still a majority of the minor ones still to be disposed of, the state legislature went into the seventh week of its session today. Only three weeks more remain until the tentative date set for sine die adjournment.

The biennial budget bill, amended to include the proposed expenditures of the highway commission was to be reported back to the upper house today. The breed gasoline tax increase proposal was scheduled to find its way back to the senate floor.

GRIFFIN, HIT BY STORM, IN NEW DANGER

Rising Waters of Wabash Cut Off Entrance to Village In Three Directions

DRIVE CURIOUS AWAY
Military Authorities Forbid All Persons Except Relief Workers to Enter

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 23.—The village of Griffin, swept by tornado and fire last Wednesday with the loss of at least 58 lives, was practically isolated today by flood waters of the Wabash river and smaller streams.

Entrance to the town was cut off from three directions and a highway leading to the village from the fourth was covered by water.

The Wabash is still rising and a rise in the Ohio will prevent the flood waters from draining away rapidly.

Supplies for the few refugees of the town's original population of 400 were being collected at Barrett's station, two miles east of Griffin, and taken to the desolated village on a gasoline handcar on the Illinois Central railroad.

Curious Are Excluded
All persons except relief workers were forbidden by military authorities to enter the town.

Governor Jackson, who made a personal inspection of the entire district, drove out of Griffin over a highway covered with one foot of water.

The governor was considering calling a special session of the state legislature to appropriate funds for the rehabilitation of the stricken district.

The list of known dead at 100 today and a systematic search of the ruins of Griffin was still in progress.

Conditions were rapidly improving in the other towns in the "hatchet" of southern Indiana which were struck by the tornado. Princeton, Owensville, and Poseyville have buried most of their dead.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS STARTS REBUILDING
ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 23.—Southern Illinois, swept to near destruction by a cyclone, this week starts the long grind of rebuilding. Today show 690 dead and upwards of 1750 injured over the area which stretches from Annapolis, Mo., to the Indiana line.

More than three-fourths of the dead at West Frankfort and Murphysboro have been buried. At Murphysboro, a public funeral for the 201 stricken was held yesterday.

The city's ministers, allotted five minutes apiece for the funeral, used faith as the keynote of their sermons.

Today the grind of reconstruction started. At Murphysboro, plans were under way for the rebuilding of the Brown Shoe company, where 400 men were employed.

At Gorham, where only 14 homes are standing, and where last week there were 500, the rebuilding began today.

Neighboring towns have sent in a quota of workmen to aid in the work.

Carbondale, one of the towns escaping the storm's wrath, has been designated the central distributing point for Red Cross relief work.

SUN AND MOON ARE HELD CAUSES
SANTA CLARA, Calif., March 23.—The great tornado which swept through Illinois and Indiana last Wednesday was caused by the combined action of the sun and moon, the influence of whose relative position coordinated with the two areas of low atmospheric pressure to produce the storm, according to Father Jerome Ricard, California "pater of the rain."

"Scientists have been prone to 'boon pool' the moon in affairs of this kind," Father Ricard said, "but very much of the effect to produce that terrible storm was due to the action of the moon upon the earth, lifting abnormal air tides in the atmosphere where its combined influence with the sun was strongest."

Gompers' Widow To Accept Will
WASHINGTON, March 23.—The widow of the late Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the American Federation of Labor, today withdrew her contest to break the terms of Gompers' second will. No explanation was given of the sudden decision to abandon her contest. Under the terms of the will, she will get only her dower right, the minimum amount permitted by law.

S. A. PEOPLE CONTINUE IN AID OF STORM SUFFERERS

Santa Ana residents today continued contributions to the fund being raised locally through The Register for relief work among the cyclone sufferers in the mid-western states.

Reports from the devastated sections continue to reveal hundreds of instances of intense suffering by residents in territory hit by the tornado, and indicates there is urgent need for financial help.

Trace Stanford Man to Portland

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Wilfred Hunkins, manager of the Stanford University Glee club, mysteriously missing, has been traced as far as Portland, Ore., according to his father, R. S. Hunkins. The father ascribes amnesia, caused by too close application to his studies, as the reason for his son's disappearance.

Palo Alto 'Vet' Probe to Start

PALO ALTO, Cal., March 23.—The investigation ordered by Major General Hines, chief of the U. S. Veterans bureau, into conditions at the veterans' hospital here, was to open today despite the resignation of Dr. Welcome Niles Powell, former chief clerk.

ONE BED FOR FIVE BIRKENHEAD, Eng., March 23.

Arraigned on a charge of desertion, Tom Jones, a peddler, told the court he had left his wife because he had only one bed for himself, his wife, mother-in-law, son and daughter.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 23.—Condition of J. N. Darling, the 'Ding' of cartoon fame, was reported unchanged at a hospital here, where he is suffering with peritonitis.

CHICAGO, March 23.—William D. Shepherd manifested keen interest in bacteriology. Dr. C. C. Fauman testified today at the hearing to determine whether Shepherd shall be given his freedom on bail pending trial on the charge he murdered his millionaire ward, William McIntlock.

Dr. Fauman was asked to cover important points not already disclosed by him.

"Shepherd asked me for text books on bacteriology," Dr. Fauman said. "I gave him the names of a few. Then I gave him my own lesson sheets on the subject. He wanted all the information on the subject he could get."

CHICAGO, March 23.—"No matter what the result, I only hope it will soon be over," was comment of 16-year-old Dorothy Ellington as she went on trial for slaying her mother.

Lacking the bravado and the disdain or remorse which marked her attitude shortly following her arrest, the girl went into court a thoroughly subdued young person.

The defense expects to base its case on the claim the girl was acting on an "irresistible impulse" the morning of January 13, when she fired a shot into her mother's back as Mrs. Ellington upbraided her for her fast life.

San Francisco, March 23.—Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle is to be married Tuesday night to Doris Deane, film actress, at the bride's home, near Pasadena.

"It'll be a simple affair," announced Arbuckle. "After the wedding I'll take a honeymoon trip to New York."

Since his retirement from the screen, "Fatty" has been in vaudeville and on the lecture platform.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT CHAMBER DANCE

Four hundred persons are expected to attend the inaugural dance which the junior chamber of commerce will hold at St. Ann's inn tonight. The eight-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Included on the program will be numbers by the Lions' club quartet, consisting of Bruce Monroe, Fred Wilde, Dr. E. H. Rowland and Lyle Anderson. E. M. Sundquist will preside at the piano. Refreshments will be served.

Jesse Elliott, general chairman, declared today that indications are that tonight's affair will be one of the most successful social events held in Santa Ana this year.

Tickets are being sold by the directors and at Ketter's cafe. It was reported at noon today that the majority of the pastebards had been sold.

S. A. THESPIANS WILL PRESENT 'THE BAD MAN'

In announcing their next production, "The Bad Man," the Santa Ana Community Players, for the second time this season, offer a play that created a New York sensation, and one that as yet is rarely seen outside the larger commercial theaters.

Starring Holbrook Blinn as "The Bad Man," the comedy drama ran more than two seasons in New York before going on tour. Rehearsals, under direction of George Gerwing, commenced this week, to continue almost nightly until the dates of production, April 22, 23, 24 and 25, at Ebell auditorium.

Owing to the unprecedented success of "The First Year," the players' last offering, which in its three night run overtaxed the accommodations, "The Bad Man" will be presented four nights.

With a cast composed of many players whose names are established with Santa Ana playgoers, and with others who will make

Red Lantern Stolen for Auto Light

Whispered orders around police station to the effect that persons who drive cars on Santa Ana streets without having them equipped with rear lights that burn, would be arrested, have evidently already reached the ears of the public.

C. A. Rye, 929 West Highland street, reported to police last night that he placed a red lantern on a gravel pile at the intersection of Myrtle and Flower street, and a short time afterward a car drove up to the pile, a man jumped out, took the lantern and hung it on the back end of his "fivver," using it for a rear light.

Although the deed is listed as "petit theft" at the police station, city motorcycle officers could not suppress a smile when Rye made the report.

their debut as Community Players, but whose ability has already been proved to the director, "The Bad Man" is fully expected to more than uphold the reputation established by the Players during five years of successful productions.

The complete cast, in the order of appearance, is as follows: Gilbert Jones, Warren Fletcher; Henry Smith, his uncle, Henry Brackett; Morgan Pell, James Duggan; Lucia Pell, Gladys Simpson Shafer; Red Giddings, Eugene Douglas; Jasper Hardy, H. G. Miller; Angela Hardy, Juanita Wright Fletcher; Pancho Lopez, the "Bad Man," R. R. Miller; Pedro, his lieutenant, St. Featherlee; Rangers, Cowboys, Mexicans.

WOMAN IS NABBED ON BOOZE CHARGE

Juana Saldana, 34, Mexican woman, was arrested at 5:30 p. m. Saturday and lodged in the Orange county jail, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, following a raid made on her home, at 1915 West Third street, where police allege they found a small quantity of illicit whiskey.

A five-gallon still and a gallon of mash were seized by officers in a shed, next door to the Saldana home, but not on Mrs. Saldana's property.

LOCAL BARBERS OPPOSE STATE LICENSE BILL

Protesting against what they declare to be too much paternalism on the part of public authority in regulating the life of citizens, and of undue and harmful government interference with legitimate business undertakings, Santa Ana barbers are joining hands with the local Merchants and Manufacturers' association in fighting the passage of Senate Bill No. 76, introduced by Senator C. G. V. Lewis of Los Angeles county, requiring registration, certification and licensing of all beauty parlors and hair-dressing establishments.

According to opinions expressed by local barbers, the bill has been drafted to include practically every barber shop in the state, from the exclusive tonyorial establishments at fashionable hotels and millionaires clubs to the village "one-chair" affair.

Under the proposed measure, the barber shops would be forced to limit their operations to the conventional "trim and scrape," unless they secured necessary certification, which would give them the right to give facials, massages, manicures and the rest of the extras which now appear on the tonyorial menu.

Boy Scouts Get Badges of Merit

Eight Orange county Boy Scouts are the proud owners of second class and merit badges, awarded at the district courts of honor held at Fullerton and Orange Friday night.

At the Fullerton court, which was presided over by J. L. Kline, deputy commissioner, Stanley Reeder, troop No. 3 Fullerton, and Jack Gibson, troop No. 1, La Habra, were given second class badges. Paul Sparks, troop No. 3 Fullerton, won a merit badge.

Leon O. Whittell, chairman of the county court of honor, presided at the Orange court of honor. Edward Keightley, troop No. 1, Orange; Curtice McCoy, John Tomblin, Richard Gardner and George all of troop No. 3, Orange, were given second class badges.

The court of honor of district No. 1 will meet in the scout cabin, Huntington Beach, March 25. The court of honor of district No. 2 will meet in the new scout headquarters, Santa Ana, March 27.

Practically all car makers equip their new models with Balloon tires.

Firestone Gum-Dipping made Balloon tires possible. This special process insulates each fibre of every cord with rubber giving great strength and flexing endurance to the cords. This makes light, strong side walls of extreme flexibility which avoid punctures by yielding to sharp objects that often drive through the stiff, bulky tires of higher air pressure.

Firestone Balloons grip the road even at high speed—holding the car steady and sure on the dangerous curves.

INSTALL OFFICERS FOR WHITE SHRINE

With members of the order from all parts of the Southland present, the public installation of officers of Damascus Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was held in Masonic temple Saturday night.

Preceding the induction, a dinner was held at St. Ann's Inn for the installing staff, newly-elected officers and members.

The following named were installed in office: Worthy high priestess, Helen Vivian Kellogg; watchman of shields, Clark T.
Clelland; noble prophetess, Marianne Muller; worthy scribe, B.
Pearl Nicholson; worthy treasurer,

Excessive Gas and Heartburn can be Prevented.

Gas on the stomach, heartburn, sour stomach and other stomach disorders can be quickly relieved. Smith Bros', famous tonic, M-A-C, can be relied on to give almost immediate relief.

Its continued use will generally tone up the entire digestive system so that it no longer needs help in acting in a regular and healthy way.

Mild and pleasant to take, M-A-C is considered a household necessity in many thousands of homes.

M-A-C contains no alcohol or other drugs that are injurious to habit forming. Its reputation and wide spread use are the result of its remarkable reliability as a quick and efficient remedy.

Why put up with the discomforts and the loss of efficiency that result from stomach disorders, when relief and generally a permanent cure can so easily be had?

Go to C. S. Kelley Drug Store at Santa Ana today and ask for M-A-C.
Your money will be refunded on the first bottle if it does not bring relief.

RED CROSS TO ACCEPT FUNDS FOR STRICKEN

Mrs. J. N. Leebrick, secretary of the Santa Ana Chapter of the American Red Cross, today received a letter from William Carl Hunt, from the national headquarters of the Red Cross, informing her that no general appeal for funds is being made in the seven western states.

However, Mrs. Leebrick was instructed to accept voluntary contributions. Anyone desiring to contribute may write their check to the "American Red Cross" and send or give it to Mrs. Leebrick at the coushouse, or Harry L. Hanson, treasurer, at the First National bank.

Following is the letter received by Mrs. Leebrick:

"We and you have been anxiously awaiting information as to the part which the American Red Cross is to take in the tornado disaster which devastated such a large area in the state of Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Missouri and Kentucky.
Backed by the fact that the states come within the jurisdiction of the St. Louis branch office of the American National Red Cross, therefore the active operations of the Red Cross will be conducted from St. Louis.

Baker Organizes Unit.

"Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief was, at the time of the disaster, in Sullivan, Indiana, directing the relief work following the mine explosion disaster which occurred there a few weeks ago. He immediately proceeded to the scene of the tornado disaster, and is at the present time organizing his disaster relief unit. Because of the large area affected, the headquarters of the disaster relief unit will also be set up in St. Louis, but of course many sub-offices will have to be established for operating purposes throughout the entire disaster area.

Fleser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations for the American National Red Cross, is also on the ground.

State Appropriation.

"You will have seen from the newspapers that President Coolidge requested the American Red Cross to get all its disaster facilities to work, and of course, this has been done. In addition, the governors of Illinois and Indiana have officially requested that the Red Cross administer the funds which shall be collected and have been informed that the state of Illinois has appropriated a large sum, specifying that the Red Cross shall administer same.

"No general appeal through chapters is to be made in the seven western states and Alaska, where this branch office has jurisdiction. However, voluntary contributions may be received by Red Cross chapters and forwarded to this office promptly, and they will be made immediately available by wire to our Red Cross Disaster Relief unit on the ground.

"Because of the distance, it will not be advisable to take contributions of clothing, food, etc. These can be readily purchased at St.
Louis, Chicago, and other great nearby commercial centers."

Alfred Ault, 702 West Third street, and Melvin C. Goodchild, 1107 West Sixth street, reported to police yesterday that bicycles, belonging to them, had been stolen.
The Ault bicycle was taken from the curb in front of The Register building last night, and the Goodchild "wheel" was stolen Saturday from the Frances Willard junior high school.

Thieves Rob Car
of Clothes, Tools

Burglars who were busy in Santa Ana last night, when approximately five homes were entered, did not overlook an automobile parked in a private driveway at 1450 South McClay street, in which were clothing and other articles belonging to Mr. and Mrs. W. S.
Glick, who arrived yesterday from Sacramento.

The Glick family left the articles in the car, while they spent the night with friends. The articles were missing when the family arose today.

A jack had been placed under one wheel of the car, but evidently the thief, intending to steal a tire, did not know how to operate the jack, for he did not remove the tire. Police are investigating.

Dog Rips Away
Seat of This Man's Trousers

Many and varied have been reports made to police concerning vicious dogs in various sections of the city, but the prize report came in Saturday night when Earl Adamson, 1017 North Ross street, reported that a dog attacked him near 800 North Garnsey street, and tore away the seat of his trousers.

Police News

An automobile, belonging to L.
C. Ward, 602 South Main street, was reported stolen Saturday night. A description of the car was furnished the sheriff's office.

Henry Buchheim, of Laguna Beach, reported to the sheriff's office today that a mowing machine had been stolen from his place.
The theft was made last night. A plow was stolen from the place of H. C. Young, also of Laguna, he reported.

George Flores was questioned by police Saturday night, following a complaint made to the police by Steven Belgard, to the effect that Flores had attempted to shoot him when the two met on Artesia street. Police freed Flores, when no weapon was found on his person, at the time of arrest.

Burglars, who broke the lock on the garage door at the place of O.
Bridgefield, 1455 South McClay street, stole a spare tire from the rear of an automobile in the garage and several tools, according to a report made to the city police today.

E. Marcias, 38, Paulino salesman, was admitted to the Orange county jail yesterday. He is charged with issuing a worthless check.

Charged with stealing silverware from the Boller cafe, William Smith, 50, kitchen helper, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve 25 days in the Orange county jail, when he was found guilty
Saturday in City Recorder and F.
Talbot's court. He went to jail.

W. A. Collins, 723 East Pine street, reported to police Friday that his garage at 618 East Walnut street had been entered and two pairs of honey tenners.

Local police were notified by Los Angeles authorities that a coupe, belonging to L. C. Holland, 219 East Twentieth street, Santa Ana, had been recovered there. The car was stolen here several weeks ago.

Fines levied in City Recorder J.
F. Talbot's court Friday and early Saturday were as follows: Gordon Nelson, parking in private driveway, $3; George H. Smith, parking more than 18 inches from curbing, $2; Henry Winters, parking in two stalls, $2, and W. D.
Ament, parking between 2 a. m.
and 5 a. m., $4.

Otis McMurray, 18, and Edward Simkins, 16, arrested yesterday by officers Heffner, and Adams, near Tustin, were brought to the Orange county jail, and charged with vagrancy.

N. Moore, 49, Huntington Beach, was brought to the Orange county jail last night by Jack Tinsley, chief of police, charged with issuing fictitious checks.

BAKERSFIELD—The Kern County Bar association has passed a resolution favoring Judge Erwin W. Owen of the Kern county superior court to succeed Benjamin F. Bledsoe as federal judge for the southern district.
The resolution has been telegraphed to Senator Shortridge.

FRESNO—Recommendation that armistice day, November 11, be declared a legal school holiday was made by county school superintendents of the southern San Joaquin valley meeting recently at Hanford, according to Clarence W. Edwards, Fresno school chief, who attended the meeting. The executives devoted the meeting to a discussion of educational legislation now pending. They approved an amendment to the bill which requires all officials in the office of the county superintendent to hold administrators' certificates. The amendment provides that only those actually engaged in teaching work or training shall come within the clause. As originally worded, all stenographers and clerks in the office would have been required to take a two year college course in order to hold their jobs.

RIVERSIDE—Friday was the last of the "Greet Them With Oranges" ceremonies to be staged this season at the Union Pacific station by the Riverside Chamber of Commerce. So successful has the venture proved that Secretary Meyer L. Schoenthal asserted yesterday that there is no doubt but that the same plan will be carried out next year. Thousands of California tourists bound for the Golden State via the Union Pacific have been greeted at the local station by pretty girls bearing golden oranges and Chamber of Commerce literature in the eight weeks during which the plan has been in operation.

EL CENTRO—Elimination of several division engineers and the immediate suspension of recently ordered construction work at new shops and offices at Imperial were among the economy measures ordered by the directors of Imperial irrigation district. In order to reduce the overhead expense of the district the directors also voted to consolidate several of the divisions.

THINK WOMAN HELPS TO ROB
HOMES IN S. A.

Who is Santa Ana's woman
burglar?

This is a question that city police are endeavoring to answer today, following a report that four Santa Ana homes were entered last night, and an attempt to enter a fifth.

In spite of the largest number of burglaries recorded in a single night in more than a year, little loot was taken and in two of the homes nothing was reported missing.

The first report received was from the home of H. Spicer, 1323 Greenleaf street, at 7:45 last night. Spicer, returning to his home, frightened the burglars away. Hundreds of dollars worth of clothes and other articles had been tied up in a silk bedspread ready for removal. The home had been thoroughly ransacked.
Entrance to the home was gained by cutting a rear window screen.

Hear Woman's Voice

A woman's voice telling a confederate, "everything is all right," was heard in the vicinity of 2231 Bonnie Brae street, at 8:45 last night. A few minutes later a report was made to the police by A. B. Smith, who lives at that address, that his home had been entered. The house had been ransacked, but nothing was reported as missing.

A neighbor of Smith was attracted by the flashing of a flashlight and went out on his front porch. He told police he saw a man crossing the Smith lawn, and heard a woman's voice telling the man that "everything is all right."

The third home of the evening to be robbed was that of W. T.
Dilley, 1224 West Sixth street, where a gold watch was taken.
A cut screen in the bedroom window told how entrance into the house was gained.

Sees Face in Window

An attempt was made to enter the residence of Mrs. A. M.
Falcon, 1120 West Fourth street, at 8:45 o'clock. Mrs. Falcon believes she was frustrated an attempt to enter the house by a side window. She said she distinctly saw the face of a man at the window.

P. G. Gillett, 1516 West Third street, reported that a watch stolen by the fashion of a side window, was taken by a thief entering by a side window. Nothing else was taken, he said.

Officers Bob Elliott and Frank Lutz, who answered the burglar calls last night, are of the opinion that the woman in the case wore rubber boots. Footprints, too small for a man, were found in several places. They are of the opinion that the woman acts as a "lookout."

SANTA PAULA—Lead imitation

OPPOSING HARBOR BONDS AT THIS TIME

Editor Register—I notice by The Register that General Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer for the Orange County Harbor Commission has recommended an immediate bond election for the voting of bonds in the sum of $2,000,000 for construction of jetties and other improvements at the harbor. That is, the complete program calls for $2,000,000, but the bonds are to be sold from time to time as the plan is developed and the work is done. As I am a taxpayer in Orange county, I feel that I am much more interested than an outsider in the making of a harbor for Orange county. According to the Register, General Beach ratified all work that has been done on the harbor project.

I wish to ask the supervisors, the commissioners and the voters if they don't think that the present jetty would be in better condition today if a channel twelve or fifteen feet in depth had been dredged from the shore end out into water of that depth, before the base was laid for the jetty? Rock for the jetty was dumped on soft sand, and naturally the action of the waves has undermined the foundation. The taxpayers of Newport Beach had to put up $50,000 to fill the break caused by the bottom rock being undermined.

Now about the bond issue. I feel that the present is a most inopportune time to submit an issue to the voters. Conditions are more unfavorable than during any time in the past twenty-five years. We should wait until some of the hundreds of vacant apartments and cottages are filled up with tenants and until we have recovered from the effects of the series of dry years.

extending the peninsula, published a few days ago in the Register, were not fully understood. I proposed a plan for building a solid concrete watertight wall 1600 feet into the ocean, paralleling the jetty, and 320 feet wide and creating eighty-two lots by filling the enclosure with material to be pumped from the entrance channel. In my previous statement I said that the development of the lots would cost approximately $450,000, including a rock apron. I have a patent for reinforced concrete slabs by which it is possible to build an absolutely sun-tight and watertight wall with the walls built in such form as to work in harmony with the waves and prevent washing. The walls would be built on the incline and the waves would spend their force sliding up and down this concrete incline.

It is my opinion that lots developed from the made land could be sold at from $5000 to $8000 each, returning virtually the full cost of dredging the entrance to twenty feet and building the walls. For supervision of the work, and for royalty on my patent, I would be willing to accept as payment ten of these lots. I would be pleased to talk over the proposition with anyone interested.

F. W. HARDING.

COMMENTS EDITORIAL

San Juan Capistrano, March 19, 1925.
Editor Santa Ana Register,

Dear Sir: Permit me to express my appreciation of your able editorial, in last evening's Register, on "Enforce Traffic Laws." We who live in the extreme southern part of Orange county, where there are long stretches of boulevard through thinly settled sections, appreciate the great need for vigilant traffic officers, as well as a Judge who enforces the law impartially. We rejoice to know that you approve of traffic law enforcement, and that you are willing to publicly commend the officials in their very difficult and thankless task.

Yours sincerely,
LOUIS TUNNING.

EMINENT ARTIST WILL VISIT S. A.

With Gardner Symons already registered at St. Ann's Inn, another name, well known throughout the world of art, will soon be added to the guest list of the popular hostelry when Ben Foster, internationally known painter, arrives here from New York for a brief stay in Southern California. Word of his expected arrival was received today at the hotel office. He is a personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. Symons, and expects to be their house guest at Laguna Beach during a part of his stay in the southland.

Foster is considered an authority on water colors and has been honored with a large number of

Grandmother Knew

There was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsils, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches in the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 60c jars and tubes; hospital size, $5.00.

Farm Bureau Notes

The presidents and secretaries of the farm centers of the nine southern counties of California will hold an all-day meeting in Fairmont park, Riverside, April 11, it was announced today by

A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange County Farm Bureau. Each of the 15 centers of this county is expected to have representatives present.

According to Stanley, more than 200 persons will attend the gathering. Matters of interest to the farmers of the Southland will be taken up for discussion and action.

The meeting is being called by R. B. Peters, San Bernardino, chairman of the executive committee of region No. 1, California Farm Bureau federation.

Calf Club Formed
Announcement that a calf club had been formed by boys living near Westminster was made today by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, who is in charge of agricultural club work. Members of the club are Clyde Hazard, Jack Hazard, Richard Basse and Erice McCoy. The members will keep accurate records and at the county fair here in September, prizes will be awarded to the boy having the best record.

Club Work Discussed
Representatives of various farm centers of Orange county met in the hall of records, building March 20 for a discussion of agricultural club work. Importance of the clubs to the community was stressed by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, who urged the men present to encourage the boys in their neighborhoods to join the clubs.

Build Tank Tuesday
Construction of a septic tank will take place at the Will Hatch poultry ranch No. 2, Garden Grove, Tuesday, it was stated today at the farm advisor's office. A demonstration will be held later.

Luncheon Clubs Add
Many Smart Events
To Week's Gayety

Hospitality among luncheon and service clubs seems to be the reigning feature of the Lenten season for beginning with the delightful dinner dance with which the Lions entertained their wives and sweethearts at St. Ann's last Friday night, the late March calendar seems to have several red letters signifying various happy events among such clubs.

President Harold E. Wahlberg of the Lions and his entertainment committee chairman, Lyle Anderson, planned a most happy evening which was enjoyed by scores of Lions and Lionesses including a few from jungles afar.

Tonight the young men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will present a much-anticipated party at St. Ann's Inn when the newly elected officers will be honored by their fellow-members at an evening of dancing party. The officers to be so signally honored are Stanley Clem, president; William Iverson, Elmo M. Sundquist, Bruce Switzer and Dean Colver, the remaining officers so recently chosen.

Tomorrow night the Kiwanis club is entertaining at Ebell club in honor of Kiwanis wives and sweethearts and according to all indications, an unusual interesting program is being planned. It will include a one-act play, several surprise features, and finally dancing and cards. George R. Wells as president, has a number of capable committee heads working under him to insure the success of the evening.

A park party is the lively event planned by the Exchange club for Wednesday night when accompanied by their wives and well-filled baskets of supper supplies, the members, led by their president, Charles Swanner, will motor to Orange County park at 5:30 o'clock. There an auction sale will yield an exciting interval as the hammer to be awarded the highest bidder.

Partners thus gained will eat supper together ere the evening's dancing begins.

Parent-Teachers Assn.

Meeting Friday afternoon in the kindergarten room of Lincoln school, the P. T. A. of that school held a most interesting meeting directed by the president, Mrs. John Sexton who asked all to join in singing "America" with Miss Nellie Irvine at the piano. This was followed by the flag salute led by Miss Linda Paul, principal of the school.

The 4a grade presented a charming little play calling back from the land of Long Ago such characters as Christopher Columbus, George and Martha Washington, Betsy Ross, as well as the statue of Liberty and Uncle Sam.

Little girls of the first and second grades with their dollies in their arms sang a lullaby, rocking their babies to sleep in true motherly fashion. They were accompanied at the piano by Nellie Irvine.

The secretary's report of the previous meeting was read by Miss Minnie Penman and accepted. The 4a grade was permitted to carry the flag for the next month as a reward for having the most mothers present, the award being made on a percentage basis.

Mrs. Sexton announced a contest which is being conducted to obtain the best windshield sticker emphasizing the "Keep California Clean" idea, and asked the members to send in original slogans to the campaign headquarters. Miss Paul made a very interesting announcement of the pageant to be given by the schools of the city on April 2 and 3. Six hundred tickets were left at Lincoln school to be disposed of.

Miss Hazel Benus gave a practical and thoroughly interesting talk on art, accompanying the paper by posters and charts showing the progress of children in the study of art from first to ninth grade. After hearing her, the mothers felt that they had a better understanding of the subject and would appreciate the papers brought home by their children. Her talk made the subsequent inspection of art work of the Lincoln school children, even more interesting.

A pleasant feature was the kitchen shower which brought a ready response in the form of many utensils for the school kitchen.

RED PIMPLES TEN YEARS

Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"For the last ten years my face and arms have been covered with pimples. The pimples were hard and red and itched and burned so that I could not sleep well during the night. I kept scratching the pimples all the time which caused more to break out. My clothing aggravated the pimples on my arms."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some and after using them for four months I was healed." (Signed) Miss Gertrude Lankauf, 1612 Cherry St., Toledo, Ohio.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes.

Young People Enjoy
Fancy Dress Dance
After Rube Day

Rube day, that holiday so keenly enjoyed by the students at Polytechnic High school had a happy echo in the impromptu party which Miss Jewell Fletcher planned to follow the lively hours on the school campus.

Assembling a little group of her friends, Miss Fletcher bade them retain their amazing costumes of the day and come to her home at 417 West Walnut street for an evening of dancing and merriment. There the weirdly-garbed young people were greeted by their hostess and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Fletcher and also by young Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fletcher, all of them joining in the evening's merriment.

Dancing was the popular diversion and the evening reached its climax with the serving of Neapolitan ice cream with wafers. Iced fruit punch also offered refreshment throughout the dancing.

Enjoying the friendly evening were the Misses Dorothy Evans, Mildred Vieira, Margaret Witman, Elizabeth Witman, Aline Reynolds, Beth Nunn, the young hostess, Jewell Fletcher, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fletcher, and Messrs. Gorham Smith, Edward Linsendard, Robert Kimberlin, James True, Frederick Elliott, Malcolm Isaacson, Kingsley Hancock and Don Hillman.

BREA, OLINDA VOTE FOR OWN HIGH SCHOOL

Voters of the Brea and the Olinda elementary school districts, at a special election Saturday, voted to form an independent and separate union high school district, according to official advice received this morning by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools. The result of the election means that these two districts will withdraw from the Fullerton high school district, of which they now are a part.

At Brea the vote stood 585 for and 48 against the proposition, and at Olinda 68 for and 101 against.

Olinda Votes Against

A significant feature of the election, causing some comment, is the fact that the proposition was defeated in the Olinda district. Because of a provision in the California school law, taking cognizance of aggregate results only when several districts are voting together on a proposition, the Olinda district will be forced, it is said, to break away from the Fullerton high school district and join Brea in forming a new high school district.

Express Surprise

Surprise was expressed over the action of the Olinda citizens, inasmuch as their own petitions indicated a willingness to break away from the Fullerton high school district.

Happy Event Planned To Honor Host on His Birthday

One of the most pleasant events of the week just passed, was the party given Saturday night by Mrs. Will Hart of 1606 West Fourth street to honor the birthday of her husband.

Ranunculus in their delicate colors and the fragrant loveliness of sweet peas were used very effectively in decking the pretty home for the event. Some of the guests found their interest in playing cards while others preferred informal chat. Later in the evening all joined in some amusing guessing games with attractive favors awarded both winners and losers. The former were Miss Opal Owens and Mr. C. C. Lloyd while clever consolation gifts went to Mrs. J. A. Lacy and Mr. Halderman.

All the guests were interested in the interval during which their host, Mr. Hart, was called upon to open the assortment of packages which proved to contain many attractive gifts to brighten his birthday. After all had been examined and duly admired, Mrs. Hart served delicious home-made cake with ice cream topped with strawberries.

The guests enjoying the hospitality of the Hart home and offering whole-hearted wishes for many happy returns of the birthday of the host, included Messrs. and Mesdames M. E. Halderman, C. C. Kemper, Gail Rodacker, O. A. Harman, J. A. Lacy, L. M. Owens, the Misses Opal Owens and Catherine Lacy, all of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lloyd of Huntington Beach.

Ebell Travelers

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, members of Ebell's Fourth Travel section will embark from the Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine home at 803 1/2 North Main street, upon a trip to Italy and many of her important cities. These will include Milan, Genoa, Bologna and Venice, with papers to be presented by different members of the section.

All are asked to remember their donation toward the tree fund, since the Fourth Travelers have planned to add to the cypress trees which are now growing at the Ebell clubhouse within the park. Those who make no special effort to attend the meetings are also reminded of the fines which will be imposed upon absent members.

Sunday School Class

The G. G. G. class of the United Presbyterian Sunday school will meet for its monthly class party tomorrow evening in the recently completed social rooms of the church. All members are expected to be present to enjoy a happy evening.

Spend the Afternoon
In Pleasant Manner

Industrious Dames.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. C. F. Canfield of 945 West Pine street, was delightful hostess to the Industrious Dames who employed their time with many pretty bits of needlework while flying tongues kept pace with flying fingers.

Mrs. Canfield used St. Patrick greens in all her appointments, both in decorating her home artistically and in the attractive tea menu which was served by her two daughters, the Misses Drew and Eleanor Canfield. In serving tea, the guests were seated around the table, where they found places by means of appropriate green cards. Quaint favors were also eloquent of the genial Irish saint. Sandwiches, cake, salted nuts and coffee were among the dainties served.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Canfield and her home were Messdames J. H. Cochran, Archie Gorton, Frank Woodhouse, C. S. Leamer, George Etchison, Herman Smith, Robert White, Effa Hayes and Edward Pickering.

Idle Hour.

The March meeting of the Idle Hour club was held late last week at the home of Mrs. U. S. Colby on West Third street when eleven members and two visitors were greeted. The latter were Mrs. George of this city and Mrs. William Hemley of Long Beach.

An entertaining shamrock game was reminiscent of the recent Irish holiday, Mrs. J. Vance carrying off honors and Mrs. George Bickford, consolation.

Fruit jello with whipped cream, nabiscos, cake and punch formed the enjoyable refreshments which Mrs. Colby served ere the afternoon drew to a close.

150 RECEIVE SACRAMENT OF CONFIRMATION

St. Joseph's Catholic church was the scene, late yesterday, of impressive ceremonies, when 150 girls and boys, men and women received the sacrament of confirmation at the hands of the Right Rev. Bishop McGovern of Cheyenne, Wyo., who is officiating in the place of the Right Rev. Bishop John J. Cantwell of the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, who is in Rome celebrating the Holy Year.

The altars of the church were very beautifully decorated with waxen calla lilies, graceful bristly wreath and greenery, and these with the many lighted candles, beautiful music, acolytes, Sisters of St. Joseph, priests, and the bishop in his purple robes, together with the girls robed in white with flowing veils, made a scene long to be remembered.

As the procession entered the church, the bell pealed and Mme. Manuela V. Budrow sang the Ecce Sacros, with Miss Mollie Mosher at the pipe organ. The children sang "Come Holy Ghost," and were then examined in matters of religion, who complimented them upon their knowledge, in a brief and inspiring talk.

After prayers and responses, the choir sang "Veni Creator," while the large class was being confirmed. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy, Mrs. L. M. Banks and J. A. Maag acting as sponsors. The Rev. Father Filibert, O. F. M., was master of ceremonies.

Following the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, the colorful group was arranged in front of the church and a picture taken, after which the bishop and accompanying priests were entertained at dinner at the rectory, with the pastor, Monsignor Henry Eumelen as host.

A defense has been provided, it was learned here today, for Harry O. Baker, accused of the brutal "taxi" murder that aroused the authorities of four counties recently, when a blood-spattered taxicab was found abandoned on a residential street in Santa Ana. James D. Randalles, Los Angeles attorney, will represent Baker at his preliminary hearing on a charge of murdering James Winn, taxi-driver, it was announced. The hearing is set for next Friday, before Justice Jerome Kavanaugh, in San Bernardino.

At his arraignment a week ago, Baker was without counsel, but his relatives in Los Angeles are believed to have rallied to his aid.

The unusually vicious slaying of Winn, a San Bernardino taxi-driver, came to light when his blood-stained machine was found on Durant street, in this city. It had remained there two days before attention of the police was called to it.

Investigation revealed that Winn had disappeared from San Bernardino on the night before the car was first noticed here. At once the authorities of San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and Los Angeles counties commenced a search for the body of Winn, which was supposed to have been concealed somewhere along the route taken by the taxi between San Bernardino and Santa Ana. Some days later it was found under a building at East Highlands, a suburb of San Bernardino.

In tracing the movements of Winn on the last night he was seen alive, it was found that he had answered a taxi call and had never returned. Suspicion fell upon Baker and Harry Kirk, who were seen with Winn that evening. Baker was taken into custody, but when no trace could be found of Kirk, the police were half divided between the opinion that he had taken flight and the belief that they should continue searching for the body of a second victim.

SAY TRAFFIC CRITICISM IS NOT MERITED

Orange county traffic officers declare that much of the criticism about law enforcement in Orange county is unjustified.

They deny that there is any truth in the oft-repeated charge that county officers "pick on" nationally known characters and those prominent in the movie world.

Most motorists are not deliberate lawbreakers, and therefore they do not know what we have to contend with on the road," said one state officer today. "All they know is what they read in the papers. They do not know of the hundreds of motorists we warn and then let proceed without tickets. They don't know of the foolish tales that are told to motorcycle police, as to why the law was being broken. They just don't know about our work and that is the reason for most of the criticism."

"I would like to take some of these howlers out on the road for a day or two and show them just what a state officer is forced to do to keep the roads safe," he said.

Several nights ago two prominent persons were said to have been speeding along the San Diego highway, near San Juan Capistrano. Motorcycle Officer F. G. Yoder was on duty and he stopped one of the cars, which he said was making a speed of more than 50 miles an hour. The road was clear of traffic and this speed was not necessarily dangerous under the circumstances. The driver was William Randolph Hearst Jr., traveling with his Scotch tutor from Los Angeles to San Diego. Hearst was not arrested. He was warned.

In the other car, which was also caught by Yoder after a long chase, was Captain Lowell Smith, world aviator. He was said to have been speeding at a rate of 50 miles an hour in a car given to him in appreciation for his globe encircling feat. He also was allowed to go on his way without arrest.

Many Go Free, Claim
Scores of motorists are warned on their way without being arrested, it is stated, even though they have violated one of the state laws. Judgment is exercised in all motor law violation cases, and Captain Henry Warner's men are doing all in their power to carry on their work here to the best of their ability, officers contend.

Motorcycle officers are human, just like other state and county officials, it is pointed out, and although they may seem "hard boiled" when making an arrest, they are always ready to play fair and to give a driver every chance to prove his innocence, it is learned.

SCHOOL NEWS

Julia Lathrop

Assembly
The first assembly in charge of the student body officers was held Wednesday, March 18, on the bleachers. The president, Dean Hardison, called the assembly to order. As the program was to be quite long the reading of the student council minutes was dispensed with. The meeting was then turned over to a very enjoyable program given entirely by pupils from the high school.

Emil Foust gave a short sketch of the play, "To the Ladies," which was given at the high school, Friday, March 20. The second act of the play was then given. The characters were: "Mr. Bebe," Emil Foust; "Mrs. Bebe," Miss Madeleine Moase; and "Chester," Raymond Grizet. It was very humorous and interesting as those who attended the play know.

The high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Mustel, gave five very beautiful selections. They were: "Stars and Stripes," Sousa; "Poet and Peasant Overture," Suppe; "Humoresque," Dvorak; "Poppyland," composed by Mr. Mustel; and "Nation's Pride," Miller.

The program proved so unusually entertaining that the assembly ended with an enthusiastic yell for the high school.

Corinne Nelson.
The program proved so unusually entertaining that the assembly ended with an enthusiastic yell for the high school.

Teachers' Party
Wednesday night, March eighteenth, some of the teachers motored to Laguna Beach and had dinner at the White House. Afterwards they went to the Misses Thrashers' bungalow where a most enjoyable evening was spent. Those present were: Mesdames Sinke and Beeson, Misses W. Kingrey, L. Thrasher, E. Brunner, H. Thrasher, B. Hart, E. Sturgeon, H. Foster, B. Anderson, F. Kline, M. Henderson, L. Brokaw, E. Anderson.

Girls' Glee Club
The Willard Every Girls' club invited the Julia Lathrop Every Girls' club to entertain them. The following program was put on by the Girls' Glee club: The president, Annie Van Hoy, thanked the girls for inviting us over to their club. Poem—"The Country Cousin"; Country cousin, Bessie Schick; "City cousin," Annabelle Bowman; "Boy," Mary Stearns. Quartet, "Violet Lady," Ferdina Peters, Annie Van Hoy, Ruth Garner and Gertrude Morris.

Vocal solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," Ferdina Peters; poem, "Don't," double quartet, "Water Lilies," Joan Fairfield, Henrietta Scheffer, Thelma Obar, Francis Wickersheim, Crystal Tally, Dorothy McCune, Mary Jane Brunner, Jean Morris; scene from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Topsy," Ruth Swanson; "Eva," Dolly Cox; "Miss Ophelia," Harriet Reed. Although it was Friday the night everything turned out wonderfully.

Girls' Baseball Team
Julia Lathrop girls' baseball team played Fullerton school and was defeated by the score of 6-3. The lineup was as follows: catcher, Lillian Cope; pitcher, Lorene Moore; first base, Violet McKensie; second base, Gertrude Morris; third base, Leota Ewing; first short, Crystal Tally; second short, Mildred Sherwood; 1st field, Agnes McKinstrey; 2nd field, Adeline Thornton; 3rd field, Frances Wickersheim; substituted, Laura Dunn, Alice Meyers, Frances Lloyd.

The game was very evenly matched and well played by each side. The two schools will meet again at Julia C. Lathrop school Thursday, May 2.

Mildred Sherwood, Girl Scouts
The girl scouts of Julia C. Lathrop held their second meeting Friday, March 13. For their emblem they decided upon the poppy.

Miss Chalmers, their captain, formed three patrols; the leaders were chosen as follows: Patrol 1, leader, Cora Taylor; corporal, Lucille Meyers; patrol 2, leader, Ethelyn Bates; corporal, Evelyn Wurster; patrol 3, leader Mildred Crowl; corporal, Alberta Vail.

After the leaders were chosen, Miss Chalmers showed each patrol how to tie the reef, bowline and sheepshank knots. There are two second class scouts in their troop, Lucille Meyers and Frances Larabee. The other girls are getting ready for their tenderfoot test. The class is planning to go on a hike and cook their supper some afternoon soon.

On Thursday evening, March 19, the Parent-Teachers association held its regular meeting at 7:30 in the cafeteria. The program was as follows:

"The School Parade" and "The Cello" by a violin class; two numbers by the beginning orchestra class. Those who played violins were Gladys Vest, Shirley Groomer, Ben Atkin and Raymond Kohler; drums, Robert Poole; piano, Duncan Harnois. Piano solo, "The Country Gardens," by Corinne Nelson; "The Country Cousin," "Blue," Annabelle Bowman; "Bob," Paul Griggs; "The Country Cousin," Bessie Schick.

The Girls' Glee club under the direction of Mrs. Beeson gave "The Cycle of Life," "Baby Days," "Childhood Days," "School Days," "Graduation," "Love Song," "Mother," the Old and New Fashioned Grandmothers.

Testament, and at the next meeting we will write half of the books of the Old Testament.

We also elected officers as follows: President, Pearl Haddock; vice-president, Betty Smith; secretary and treasurer, Opal Dell White; reporter, Everett Pearce.

Recognition Service
The Minnehaha Triangle of Girl Reserves met at Miss Brunner's home last Friday evening for a recognition service. Guests of the club were Miss Nancy Elder, the new Girl Reserve secretary for Santa Ana, Miss Dorothy Cartwright, a Girl Reserve Advisor, and Mrs. Webber.

The girls lined up in the hall and marched into the living room, forming a triangle. Each girl carried an unlighted candle on a blue triangle. After being recognized as Girl Reserves by Miss Cartwright, the girls lighted their candles at standing on the table in front of the advisors. The girls received their arm bands after lighting their candles. Miss Elder spoke of the meanings of the triangle and the candles.

Following the recognition service, games and songs were indulged in. The following girls are now fourth Reserves: Gladys Vest, Lillian Napier, Ruth Swanson, Nell Hinton, Willetta Bozell, Mary Bell Arnold, Vivian McCarter, Viola Chapman, Frances Birchler, Elizabeth Smith, Eileen Peterson, Virginia Gray, Leah Chapin, Helen Fritz, Ruth Bozell, Pauline Trickey, Dolly Cox, Hazel Stuckey, Carol Smith, Marjory Mathes, Aileen Adams, Lucretia Gillins.

Tennis Honors
Teachers of Julia C. Lathrop have started a tennis tournament to decide the championship. The eight teachers who have entered are Miss Foster, Miss Hunt, Miss Brunner, Miss Bennett, Miss Chalmers, Miss Walker, Mr. Reel and Mr. Nelson. They play every Tuesday and Thursday.

Public Speaking
The Boys' Public Speaking club meeting was held Friday, March 13, in room 3.

The meeting was called to order by Lionel Bean, chairman. Robert Tucker gave a talk on "Costa Mesa, the City Beautiful." Edward Gaebe spoke on "Clean Speech," followed by Maurice Burn, who gave a joke. Paul Hendrickson gave a monologue, Don Casey spoke on how he felt the first day at Lathrop, and Arthur Casey recited a poem, "First Down, Ten to Go." Dick Love then spoke about "Life Along the Seashore."

Track Meet
Lathrop is again of the Orange County Grammar School league in track.

A track meet was held at Orange Saturday, March 14, Lathrop finished with 44½ points while Fullerton, the nearest competitor, had 25½.

We should feel just as proud of our track team as of our football team. Next year we shall expect more people to attend their track meets than have attended the ones this year.

The points made by other schools are as follows: Tustin 25, Huntington Beach 20 1-3, Willard 14½, Orange 12.

(Lathrop Lineup)

Frances Willard
The 1a class elected officers last Thursday morning as follows: Homer Norris, president; Winona Humphrey, vice-president; Dorothy Ramsey, secretary; Peggy Warburton, treasurer, and Rodney Yould, reporter.

Wild Flower Exhibit
A splendid exhibit of wild flowers has been on display this week in the exhibit case. This is something entirely different from what we have had before and has attracted considerable attention. Mr. Kellogg picked all of these flowers last week in Carbon canyon, and has classified them according to their botanical name. Thirty different varieties are included and Mr. Kellogg says that they were all gathered within a short distance of each other. He also says that a great many more will be up in about another week. Many of the children are getting anxious to go on a real wild flower hunt.

Willard Vs. Placentia
The girls' senior indoor team played Placentia on Monday afternoon. It was the first game of the season so our team did not play together as well as they will when they get in more practice. The Willard girls won. The score was 11-5. We have a good line-up with a lot of heavy hitters and we are expecting to have a big season with a lot of the games ending in favor of Willard. The Placentia girls played well together but they were only able to score five points.

Our team was made up with the following girls: Della Fowler, Rowena Cone, Gladys Early, Elsie Hurd, Evelyn Gehrig, Lois Baker, Betty Warling, Leona Moon, Hazel Lee and Ola Tatum. Last Friday the clubs of the Frances Willard school met and many interesting programs were enjoyed including some outdoor hikes.

The Hiking club went to the Santiago creek and had a wonderful time playing games. The club is making a study of plants and trees, especially the leaves. They are planning to collect many different kinds of leaves and study them.

By Carnelle Swain, Camp Fire Girls
This is the Camp Fire's thirteenth birthday. All over the nation Camp Fire Girls are meeting to observe it.

President Coolidge writes: The White House, Washington, D. C. January 26th, 1925.

My dear Mrs. Harriman:
Thank you for your message which has been a reminder to Mrs. Coolidge and myself of the fact that the Camp Fire Girls are shortly to celebrate the thirteenth anniversary of this organization.

We find it a real pleasure to send our good wishes, with the hope that the organization may continue to thrive and carry forward the excellent work to which it is devoted.

Most sincerely yours,
CALVIN COOLIDGE.

One of our aims is to give service—this we carried out by giving a birthday party for "our mothers." About thirty-five girls and mothers left the Frances Willard school at 2:30 Friday afternoon for Orange county park. Our hostess committee cordially welcomed the guests and games were enjoyed until 5 p. m. when all gathered around the attractively arranged long tables, where charming little cooks and waitresses served grape fruit cocktail, meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, jelly, hot rolls, cocoa and fruit jello with cake.

Then before the open fire the girls formed a circle and conducted a very impressive and beautiful ceremonial meeting, several girls receiving the rank of wood-gatherers. After singing a few songs around the dying fire, all journeyed happily home.

Lecture
An interesting demonstration of the remarkable things which may be accomplished by means of electric energy will be given by Burnell R. Ford in the assembly room of the Frances E. Willard junior high school on Tuesday, March 31, at 10:20 o'clock. Mr. Ford is both an inventor and a lecturer. He has traveled under the Redpath Lyceum bureau and has given many hundreds of lectures in various parts of the United States.

Many Ills Have Fled

"I CAN sleep good at night now—something I have never done before in my life—and it is due to Cardui," declares Mrs. Deala B. Hawks, a Bristol, Va., lady whose picture is printed above.

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep," says Mrs. Hawks, "but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so much improved that many of the ills from which I suffered for years have fled.

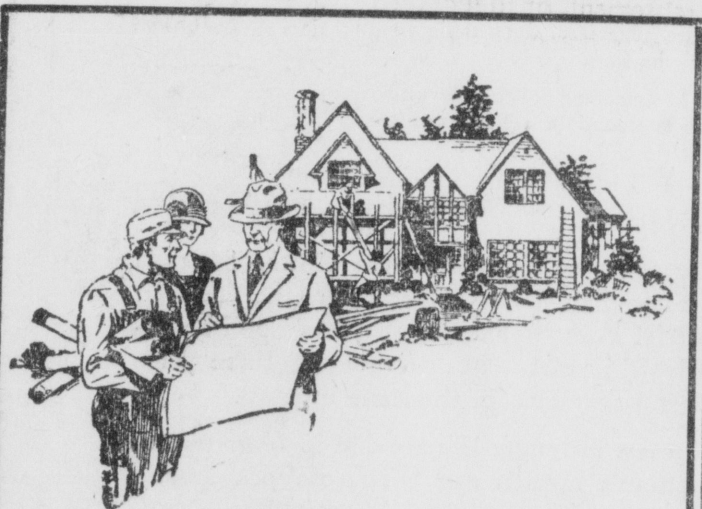

"I had been going through the change of life and it seemed to me that everything got wrong. I suffered from shortness of breath and I could not go up the steps without stopping to rest several times. When I would try to hoe in my garden I would soon give out. I could scarcely hoe two rows before my breath was coming in gasps. My sister-in-law had taken Cardui and she thought it might do me good, so she told me to try it. I got a bottle (of Cardui) and began to take it by the directions and I began to improve after a few doses. My general condition was so much better after the first bottle that I got another, and another, until I had taken six. Now I am a well woman.

"Cardui is a great medicine. Since I took it I feel like a new woman. I had had female trouble for years. Once for six months I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

Cardui is sold by all reliable druggists.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic cough and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthmal, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Now! Whiten Cloudy Teeth

Under that film on your teeth (run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel it) are the clean, glistening teeth you envy. Combat it this way—see what pretty teeth you have.

IN the United States today, it is estimated that over half a million people a day are cleaning their teeth in a new way. These are people who used to have dull and dingy teeth. That is why you see gleaming teeth wherever your eyes turn.

Now leading dentists tell how to clear up dingy teeth. A method that supplants old type dentifrices—combats, without harsh grit, the stubborn film that covers teeth and makes them ugly.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the prettier, whiter teeth you envy in others. This offers you free a 10-day tube of the way authorities advise combating it. Simply mail the coupon.

The great enemy of teeth
Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film. Obtain Pepsodent now. Don't expect the same results from old type dentifrices. Start beautifying your teeth today. Mail the coupon.

SENIOR CLASS GIRLS CLASH OVER DRESSES

Girls of the senior class at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school are divided into two camps over the controversial question of graduation dress, while the final decision hangs in the balance. Voting is to be conducted tomorrow by signed ballot to settle the issue.

One side strongly favors silk tailored pastel dresses for the commencement exercises, while the other group is advocating uniform white dresses.

At a meeting of the girls and mothers last Friday, the climax to a heated debate over the merits of the two types of dress was reached with a report that the ballot box had been stuffed. A revote was considered necessary by Miss Ruth Rowland, girls' dress advisor.

The rejected ballot count was overwhelmingly in favor of the silk tailored pastel dresses. The announced results were 58 to 31. It is generally felt by the class that expenses must be slashed as much as possible. To this end, the decision was made at the recommendation of the girls' dress committee to limit the girls to one frock for class day and baccalaureate. With expenses reduced in this way, opinion was expressed that silk dresses would be within reach of all the girls.

Those favoring the white dresses assert that uniformity at graduation would enhance the ensemble.

"We graduate only once," said one of the pretty co-eds. "In the interest of the class as a whole the best possible appearance should be made," she continued.

In the other camp, the girls are no less emphatic in their arguments that personality and originality should be allowed free expression. They declare that "only old ladies wear white," and that dresses "might as well be ordered in wholesale lots if they are all uniform."

Members of the senior dress committee recommended a selection between the two types of dress under consideration, urging care in regard to expense. Members of the committee are Miss Ethel Karp, chairman; Miss Rita Cook, Miss Frances Cocroft, Miss Hazel Mellett and Linnie Dodd.

Miss Ethel Karp, demure and winsome little senior, who is chairman of the Senior dress committee, declared today there must have been some misunderstanding as regards stuffing of the ballot box. "As far as I know," she said, "there was nothing wrong with the voting. There were some girls who voted for others."

In order that there will be no misunderstanding in the election tomorrow each girl will sign her ballot, according to Miss Karp.

TO PICK OFFICERS FOR S. A. HOSPITAL

Stockholders of the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association are being called into a special session to be held Monday, March 30, at 8 p. m., at the office of Dr. John Wehrly, 620 North Main street, for the purpose of electing a board of directors.

Directors elected at the regular annual meeting have failed to qualify, necessitating a special meeting to elect another group to serve on the board.

The number comprising the board has been reduced from 11 to five, and the directors will be elected at the meeting next Monday evening.

It was pointed out today by a member of the association that plans for construction of a new hospital plant on the grounds of the present hospital are being defined pending organization of a new board.

A full attendance of stockholders at the special meeting is urged.

School Troop to Be at Scout Meet

The troop from the Whittier state school for boys will participate in the annual county Boy Scout field day meeting in the Anaheim city park Saturday afternoon, it was announced today by Roland E. Dye, scout executive. The band from the school will furnish music at the big gathering.

Fully 700 scouts from all parts of the county are expected to take part in the various events. A parade in which all scouts will take part at 1 o'clock.

Hundreds of friends and relatives of scouts will be in attendance, according to Dye.

The boys from the Whittier school will be in charge of Supt.

HOLD ANAHEIM MAN IN THEFT OF AVOCADOS

Charged with grand larceny, John Mangle, Anaheim, is in the Orange county jail, awaiting examination before Justice K. E. Morrison.

Mangle was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams, after more than a week's investigation of the mysterious disappearance of hundreds of pounds of half-ripe avocados from Orange county groves, reported to the sheriff's office at intervals since March 1.

According to Adams, a small tree, reported stolen from the place of Dr. W. H. Popplewell, was found re-planted in Mangle's back yard, while officers say they traced hundreds of pounds of the fruit to Japanese markets in Los Angeles. The vendors, it is said, will testify they purchased the avocados from Mangle.

Several hundreds of pounds of avocados were stolen from the place of Mrs. W. A. Harper, of Villa Park. These, traced by their variety, were located in Los Angeles, at a Japanese market, by Adams, it is reported. Much of the fruit was said to be of a variety peculiar to Orange county. More than 400 pounds of avocados were found at another Japanese market, owned by P. E. Koke, who is said to have told officers he purchased the fruit from Mangle at 35 cents a pound.

Mangle denies all knowledge of the robbery.

Says Bombs Will Stop Tornadoes

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 23.—Tornadoes can be stopped by explosive bombs, according to N. W. Akimoff, Philadelphia propeller maker, who has studied air currents. "A tornado is a whirling vortex of air," he said. "It always begins on earth and ends in a cloud. Cut it off from its support at either end, and the tornado instantly collapses."

ANNOUNCE HONOR STUDENTS

FULLERTON, March 23.—The names of local junior college students who obtained honor standing during the quarter just completed have been announced by the faculty. To secure such standing a student must receive 12 quantity units, 32 quality units and no grade lower than C. The following are the students whose names appear on the honor roll: John Akers, 39 units; Elizabeth Berkeley, 33 units; Reba Faris, 35 units; Ray Hanrock, 33; Lewis Howard, 34; Carl Meyer, 39; Marie Meyer, 32; Ted Nordheim, 32; Mildred Shell, 33; Jeanette Wetton, 45; and Albert Gilmore, 38 units.

STUDENTS' EXHIBIT

FULLERTON, March 23.—Students in the night art classes being conducted by Glenn Lukins, instructor in the local high school, have on display in the show window of a Fullerton department store, an attractive exhibit of pottery, jewelry, china painting, and metal work, the products of their own hands. The work exhibited represents the accomplishments of the six-weeks course just completed. Most of the students are busy housewives of the district who have no other opportunity of securing instruction along these lines.

Artesia

Pupils of the Artesia street Mexican school on Friday afternoon entered 106 kites in the kite festival held at the school. The entries were of all sizes, colors and forms, some of the pupils developing some very pretty and clever kites. The types included birds, fish, flags, stars, boxes and clouds.

Mrs. Mildred Boyles, F. De La Riva, E. Segovia and Alex Valles, officiating as judges, awarded prizes as follows: the type of kite also being designated.

Arthur Gutierrez, an American eagle, the largest boy having the most original kite; Loretta Quados, a fish, the largest girl having the most original kite; Vicente Gonzales, smallest boy making a kite; Rita Arenas, a star kite, smallest girl making a kite; Manuel Morales, an American flag, the most patriotic kite; Raymond Lucia, Mexican flag, the best made kite; Leonard Montes, for the highest flyer; Helen Hernandez, for the funniest, a clown in orange and blue, decorated with silver dots; David Ruiz and Dolores Quados, tied for honors for kites with the greatest pull; Domingo Padilla, for the prettiest kite, an orange and yellow star, with Armonia Ruiz, for the largest kite, his exhibit being made of white cloth, with his initials lettered in red; Gabriel Beltram, for the smallest kite, a valentine.

Hearts and Dollars

Two Statements—one of which has to do with Health and Welfare, the other with Financial Strength

AN OPEN LETTER (Name on Request)

MR. HALEY FISKE, President
METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO.
NEW YORK CITY

My Dear Mr. Fiske:

Why don't you publish a Heart Statement along with the regular Financial Statement you put out each year?

Any company can publish impressive figures of financial strength, financial growth, etc. But figures don't stick. All I remember from your last year's Statement is that the Metropolitan has several million policyholders and is the biggest life insurance company in the world.

I've been following some of your magazine advertisements lately that tell of work you're doing to help people live longer. It isn't entirely clear in my mind just how you're doing it or why you do it, but since you are doing it, give us the facts and figures on that. Call it a Heart Statement or a Welfare Statement, or anything you like, but—give us the facts.

Perhaps other Metropolitan policyholders like myself would be interested in a Statement of that kind.

Very truly yours,

C. N. S.

WE are indebted to Mr. S. for his suggestion. It is an excellent one. We publish an annual Business Statement of the Metropolitan, not because we think that the figures will be remembered, but because they offer conclusive evidence of unusual growth and strength to its 22,000,000 policyholders.

And it is this extraordinary financial strength that makes it possible for the Metropolitan to carry on a nation-wide campaign for better health and longer life.

People now live longer

Records kept by the Metropolitan show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its policyholders. Compared with 1911, for example, there were nearly 62,000 fewer deaths in 1924 among its Industrial Policyholders than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

You are the gainer

You and all the other 22,000,000 policyholders—one out of every six people in the United States and Canada—reap the benefit through better health and decreased cost of insurance.

The wealth of the Metropolitan belongs to you and to no one else. The Metropolitan has no stock and no stockholders. It is owned solely by its policyholders.

You, as one of the policyholders, share in the ownership of all its investments; in its railroad bonds, its real-estate mortgages, its loans to farmers, loans to states, cities and towns for public improvements and similar enterprises.

You, as a part-owner of over $1,600,000,000, should read the two statements on the left with a feeling of pride in what your company has achieved.

The efforts as well as the assets of the Metropolitan are dedicated to protection against future want—to greater happiness, better health and longer life.

Haley Fiske.

Wendell Wilson, who not only aids in directing the Raymond Players appearing at the Ebell auditorium Thursday and Friday nights, under the auspices of Ebell society, but who also plays prominent roles in the comedies to be presented, "A Pair of Sixes" and "Her Husband's Wife."

EVEN GLOOMY CAN LAUGH AT POPULAR PLAYS

It has been said that there is no mind so gloomy but what it can risk a smile upon "A Pair of Sixes" or "Her Husband's Wife," those two amazingly funny farce comedies which the Raymond Players of Pasadena are presenting at the Ebell auditorium Thursday and Friday nights of this week, under the auspices of Ebell society and committee.

"It is a truism that everyone likes to be entertained and naturally the favorite entertainment is that which will make us smile. (A Pair of Sixes) is warranted to reach three smiles a minute, while (Her Husband's Wife) reaches that record if it doesn't actually overtake it," today declared Mrs. William L. Deimling, chairman of the ways and means committee, in discussing the entertainment.

The cast, which is presenting the two plays, is the same that has won so many friends in Pasadena at the Raymond theater. Victor Donald and Wendell Wilson are directing and lovely Betty Thayne is the ingenue. In each play, she has a role very much to her liking, while the supporting cast includes Ferris Benjamin, character man of the company, Isabel Garretson, comedienne, Grace Frederick, and Elinor Hart.

The opening night will be given over to "A Pair of Sixes," whose plot is based upon the inability of two partners to agree in the conduct of their business. A game of poker is advocated by their lawyer as a means of settling the dispute.

Financial developments are amazing, love developments are even more so, and the two combined serve to keep the audience in a constant state of uproar.

Tickets for the two productions are now on sale at the Santa Ana bookstore, where reservations may be made. The ticket sales will help increase Ebell treasury funds.

THOUSANDS SEE, PRAISE LOCAL AUTO DISPLAYS

Public Acclaims S. A. Show With Large Attendance Saturday and Sunday

With approximately 2500 persons present, the first annual Santa Ana Automobile show, under auspices of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, opened Saturday evening at Spurgeon and Second streets, in a blaze of glory. The success of the opening evening was duplicated last night.

O. A. Haley, president, and H. A. Shugart, secretary of the association, as well as other officials, today were receiving praise of a generous public for their efforts to present here the latest productions of the manufacturers whose products are such as to warrant the prediction that the attendance on each of the succeeding nights of this week will be as large or larger than on the first two nights.

"The show looks good to every member of the association, and particularly to the exhibitors, and they will have a better attendance as the merit of the display becomes more widely known," Haley said. "The exhibit is a credit to the dealers and to the city."

Vies With Best Shows. In making formal announcement of the opening of the show, H. Elmo LeBreque, one of the men identified with the organization of the display, declared that the exhibit was the equal of any individual city show he had seen—and he has managed and attended many large exhibits of this type.

He directed attention to the fact that the trades association had made the small admission fee of 10 cents for the purpose of giving every man, woman and child in the county an opportunity to inspect the new automobiles and various accessories lines without having to dig down deep in their pockets.

"You have here tonight a show that usually commands an admission fee of 50 cents," said LeBreque. "The dealers are making up the difference between 10 cents and 50 cents. They are doing it in a spirit of generosity."

Attractions Are Many. The individual exhibits, both in the car line and in the division of accessories, contain many features that make them attractive to those interested in any way in automobiles and accessories. In many of the accessory booths, there are feature displays and demonstrations that are educational and worthy of close inspection.

Shugart today declared that a number of auto dealers had reported sales of new cars made entirely as the result of visits to the show Saturday night and Sunday.

In the automobile section, there are displays of models never before shown here. Two of them being the car manufactured by the Balboa Motors company, of Fullerton, and the new special sedan of the new Willys-Knight six would be on the floor in the display space reserved by Roy Schanbals, local Overland and Willys-Knight dealer. The new Franklin, with its changed style, was a center of attraction. It was freely commented that with its new hood style, the Franklin looks more attractive than ever.

Franklin has done the unexpected—this seems to be the opinion of those who made critical inspection of the new product. The lines differ from those of preceding models. Until the public becomes more familiar with the body styles, close scrutiny of the head-cap or name-plate will be necessary to distinguish the air-cooled machine from the water-cooled cars.

Pupils Prepare for Constitution Oratory Contest

Entrants in the National Constitution Oratorical contest from the high schools of Orange county are to compete for the first district elimination award next Friday evening in the Anaheim high school auditorium, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

The winner will receive a $25 prize and the right to enter the district meet to be held April 17 at Chaffee union high school, Ontario.

Five hundred newspapers over the nation are sponsoring the contest, promoted to increase "inter-school" and "inter-county" constitution. In the finals of the nation-wide eliminations, which are to be held at Washington, D. C., President Coolidge will preside.

Tryouts at the Santa Ana High school for determining the representative who will compete in the Orange county contest were to be held early this week. Ernest C. Phillips, dramatics teacher, has charge of the tryouts in the local school.

Three students are contesting for the place as representative from Santa Ana. They are Emil Post, Raymond Griser and Kinley Hancock.

Other schools over the county are placing entries with the hope of winning the county honors. Last year, Miss Marjorie Lucas, of Fullerton, took first place. The year previous, the award went to Santa Ana, when John Harper represented the local school.

P-T-A. LEADERS URGE NEED OF MORE CLINICS

Urgent need of greater clinical facilities for the county is being urged by the Fourth district (Orange county) of the P. T. A., according to Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, president of the organization. Reflecting this need were resolutions adopted at the executive board meeting, when the matter came up for discussion.

At this meeting, several of the association presidents pointed out that many children suffering from physical and mental defects, especially in homes of limited means, do not receive proper medical attention, that public interest and the general welfare of the community require better facilities for the cure and prevention of disease among indigent children, and that a well organized clinic is the most effective means to that end.

Discussing the situation, Mrs. Snow said that from the point of view of cost to the community, statistics are available which indicate that uncorrected physical defects constitute one of the prime causes of shortened life, diminished economic efficiency and increased dependency, and that the cost of adequate medical care for many diseases and defects is beyond the means of a majority of the population.

Believing in the "once-prevention pound-cure" policy, Mrs. Snow added that, in addition to development of epidemics and general ill health in the community, uncorrected physical defects affect the work in the public schools, and diminishes the child's ability to absorb instruction, which in itself represents an economic waste to the taxpayers.

"To receive 100 cents return for every dollar expended in beautiful school buildings, costly equipment and well-paid teachers," she said, "it is essential that the students should be in condition to take full advantage of the instruction furnished them."

The following points were brought out at the district board meeting:

The growth and size and significance of out-patient clinics is due to the fact that these clinics treat diseases, the importance of which is of the first importance in increasing the economic effectiveness of the population and in protecting and promoting the public health.

The recommendations of the P. T. A. have been referred to the county supervisors, the county health authorities, and school officials in the different parts of the county, it was stated.

To Nab Drivers of Autos With No Rear Lights

Motorists who drive their cars on Santa Ana streets without tail-lights are subject to arrest, and no further warning will be issued, according to a statement by the city police today.

"During the last few nights, it seems to me that about 50 per cent of the automobiles on the streets were without tail-lights," said Motorcycle Officer H. D. Jaynes.

"This law has not been enforced strictly lately, but we now are going to give tickets to negligent drivers."

"It's a matter of about 30 cents for a new bulb for a tail-light. A motorist is likely to save himself a stiff fine by making such provision."

Jaynes said that the city officers would start a drive against all cars not properly equipped with lights, including headlights. He said there were a number of cars being driven night after night with only one headlight, and that the drivers of these cars would also be arrested.

GIVES PUBLIC INVITATION TO VISIT NEW JAIL

Santa Ana and Orange county residents are invited to inspect the new Orange county jail, which will be thrown open to the public for the first time Tuesday. Sheriff Sam Jernigan announced today.

Finishing touches are being applied today by painters to the interior of the structure, and by tomorrow the jail will be finished in every detail, it was said.

Costing approximately $200,000, the new Orange county jail ranks with the best in the entire state. "Unlike many jails throughout the country, it is modern in every way, and, although no homelike spirit will prevail within its walls, even the most fastidious prisoner will have to admit that he is in the best jail that could possibly be built," said Orin Montcrief, jailer, today.

The date for moving prisoners into the new jail from the old building, across the street, has not been set definitely by Sheriff Sam Jernigan. He said today that the transfer would probably be made about April 1.

"Tuesday, we want the people of Santa Ana and Orange county to see just how their money has been spent, said Sheriff Jernigan. "We are proud of the new jail, and we know that all Orange county will be proud of it, too. The doors will be open and every taxpayer in the city and county is cordially invited to attend."

Girl Students Offer Program

Junior girl students of the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school are in charge of a special Girls' League assembly, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:15, in the high school auditorium. The assembly is one of a series of programs being arranged by the girls of the three classes at the school.

The meeting is to be addressed by Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women in the Santa Ana junior college. She is to speak on "Etiquette."

Musical numbers on the program include piano selections by Miss Margaret Carrouthers, vocal solos by Ruel Young, a reading by Miss Alpha Watts, and piano duets by Miss Josephine Hoffman and Miss Helen Drake.

The jail all day to show groups of visitors through the building and to see that no one gets locked up inadvertently or as a practical joke.

The automatically controlled doors will be opened and shut and the new features of the jail will be shown, from the sun rooms on the top floor to the modern laundry and heating system in the basement.

Persons who look at the architectural lines of the jail will see much beauty.

The jail has accommodations for 200 prisoners, although another 100 could be housed in emergency. At the present time there are only 125 prisoners in the old jail, many of whom are federal prisoners.

"We have worked hard to get the new jail completed as soon as possible, and we are so eager for the taxpayers of the county to take an interest in it," Sheriff Jernigan said.

BEACH CITIES ARE IN JUBILANT MOOD

Picturesque Rites Are Observed at Bridge When Ribbons Are Severed

A dream of 12 years became a reality Saturday when the link of the Coast highway from Newport Beach and Balboa to Huntington Beach, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach and Long Beach was formally opened to traffic Saturday afternoon.

A stretch of 19 miles of paved road, hugging the shoreline of the blue Pacific, drew hundreds of visitors to the ceremony at the new concrete bridge over the Santa Ana river, which was officially accepted by the state from Orange county, which built it.

Following the bridge ceremony, the Newport Harbor Yacht club entertained 125 guests. Balboa staged a "Days of '49" celebration, and Huntington Beach and Seal Beach observed the opening with appropriate entertainment.

The bridge ceremony was colorful. On the north side and at the center of the structure were signs with the names of the towns on the new route. From each fluttered a ribbon held by the mayors of the respective town. In the center of the group was a dainty motion picture star, Miss Edith Bennett, who aided Santa Highway Commissioner N. T. Edwards to remove the last shovelful of earth on the bridge as cameras clicked.

The mayors or their representatives were J. P. Greeley, of Balboa, George P. Wilson, of Newport Beach, L. A. Ridenour, of Huntington Beach, A. Armistage, of Sunset Beach, R. D. Richards, of Seal Beach, and Fillmore Condit, of Long Beach.

A. L. Oiger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, presented Miss Bennett with two floral bouquets. Commissioner Edwards accepted the $70,000 structure in the name of the state, and the caravan of nearly 100 automobiles continued to Newport Beach.

COOPERATION SPIRIT IS CLEARLY SHOWN. A spirit hovered about Saturday in the dining room of the Newport Harbor Yacht club. It was the spirit of cooperation. And it was this spirit of cooperation, working with the gentle spirit of harmony which made possible the paved Coast boulevard, the incentive for the impressive ceremonies, which marked the opening of the link of the road along the Pacific Saturday. Cooperation was evident in every talk made by representative men, whose communities are interested in the new boulevard from Ventura county to Serra, in Orange county.

About the long tables, centered here and there with clusters of sweet peas, golden nasturtiums and ferns, were seated 150 men and women, representing the various county organizations, responsible for the building of this important link.

PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT AT SANTA ANA AUTO SHOW

Here is group of Millie Barlowe Revue girls, who provide an entertaining program of music and dancing each evening at the annual Santa Ana Automobile show, at the corner of Spurgeon and Second streets. Each member is an artist and the programs offered Saturday and Sunday nights were highly pleasing to the throngs crowding the display tent.

We want you to make this test

WE want every weak, puny, fagged-out man and woman in America to make this test: buy one bottle of Tanlac at your drug-gist's, take it according to directions for one week and see how quickly you get started back to full strength and vigor.

We know what we are talking about. Tanlac has helped millions. In our files are more than 100,000 letters of praise from grateful users.

Don't confuse Tanlac with ordinary patent nostrums. It is Nature's own tonic and builder, compounded from roots, barks and herbs that we gather at great expense from the four corners of the earth.

Tanlac goes straight to the seat of your trouble; cleanses and purifies the blood stream; puts your digestion in proper shape. First thing you know you have an appetite like a starved child. You rest at night and your whole body begins to feel the stir of strength and energy.

Don't you be discouraged. Don't put off testing Tanlac another day. Get a bottle now and see real improvement.

SAYS JAPANESE RELATIONS FRIENDLY

on the outside say you could hear the people screaming for help for days, but it was too hot to reach them.

"The better class of Japs tell me that war between the United States and Japan is impossible. First, because of the distance; second, on account of the business relations; and last, but not least, for the lack of 'gold bullets' or dollars, as they put it, that would be necessary, of which they have none to spare, especially since this earthquake that created a loss of something like two billions of dollars. The business men say that their politicians are only talking to keep themselves in the limelight, and that only 'royalty' is hurt about our California exclusion law, as their feelings are very sensitive, etc. I am thoroughly convinced myself that the Hearst papers' talk about Japanese war is all 'bunk'. Also American newspaper men tell me that the Japanese air force is very inferior, many being killed while trying to learn how to fly. So I can't see anything in this war talk; believe it is mostly yellow newspaper talk.

"Driving an auto here is a queer experience. Nobody seems to care if he is hit. The driver blows his horn incessantly, but little attention is paid to it. Drivers go straight at each other and turn aside just in time to avoid collision by a fraction of an inch.

"We leave here tonight for Kobe, 364 miles to the south, so will call this all for this time. Will try to send your paper anything of interest that may come to my notice.

"Sunday, March 1st.—Will be in Shanghai next Sunday. This 300 mile trip between Yokohama and Kobe is like riding on a lake, an 'inside passage' in sight of land all the time.

"Remember me to the good old Kiwanis bunch and the Register staff.

"A. B. ROUSSELLE, First Nat'l Bank, Santa Ana. "P. S.—Snowed out night; 20 above zero."

Among the newspapers, pamphlets, circulars, etc., which Rouselle sent the Register is a copy of "The Japan Advertiser" of March 5, 1925. It looks very much like a New York or Chicago newspaper, except that it has very little advertising.

The typography and make-up are conservative and neat in appearance. On the first page, bearing a three column head in comparatively small type, is a dispatch from Washington by the Advertiser's staff correspondent, Fred-eric William Will, covering President Coolidge's inaugural address. Only a synopsis of the address is given, and the whole article is less than a column in length. It is illustrated by a very good picture of President Coolidge and Vice President Dawes, standing side by side.

"THE TORNADO" SHOWING AT WALKER'S

Big in its dramatic values, smashing in its conception of the spectacular, "The Tornado," starring House Peters, opened Sunday in Walker's theater. The picture is fine entertainment in many ways, but probably its biggest appeal lies in the stupendous scenes depicting the fury of nature as emphasized in the resistless powers of storm and flood.

There are a number of these big scenes. The most thrilling and daring in conception are those resultant from a big log jam, which dams up a storm-swollen river until the flood waters threaten to sweep away a little settlement. At the same time there is an assault by hurricane, a veritable tornado that tears loose. The air is filled with debris; the other is the battering down of a bridge which collapses just as a train is crossing, the whole being plunged into the river where the passengers and crew struggle for their lives.

Peters plays the role of a man who seeks by the terrific endeavor or consequent upon a life in the logging camps to deaden the heart pain caused by what he believes to have been the infidelity of the woman who had promised to be his wife when he returned from the Great War. A stern, relentless, grim figure of a man, he becomes known as "The Tornado."

Fiery Priscilla Dean comes to the Yost theater tonight in "A Cafe in Cairo." Advance reports state that this new picture is not only one of the most lavish productions in which Miss Dean, has ever appeared, but that it even exceeds "The Siren of Seville" from points of action and dramatic interest.

"A Cafe in Cairo" is a picture-tization of the novel of the same name by Izola Forrester, author of "The White Moth," and the photo-play version is credited to Harvey Gates, who wrote "The Wildcat of Paris" and a number of other earlier Priscilla Dean triumphs. It is colorful, exotic melodramatic romance of the land of Cleopatra, and it is said that the very atmosphere and mysticism of the Far East pervades its every scene.

The other major first page articles are dispatches from London, Shanghai and Nauen, Germany, respectively.

As already stated, the paper contains very little advertising, and what little it does contain is nearly all steamship advertising, of which there are nearly thirty different advertisements. The only commercial advertising to be found in the paper—or, rather, store, advertising—is a feature headed "Kobe Shopping Guide." Under this heading are some fifteen small advertisements, of about one to three inches single column each, of various shops and professional people.

Franklin reflects the outstanding note in the eyes of the motor car designer. The lines, proportion and detail work of the Series 11 combine smartness and conservatism.

The program of entertainment put on Saturday evening by the Mille Marlowe Revue girls was a pleasing feature of the evening.

The company will offer a program each evening of the week, with an entire change at each performance. The entertainment features start at 9 p. m. and continue for approximately 40 minutes. The group comprises a company of singing and dancing girls, each an expert in her line.

in 1876 from their farms in the east to the buffalo fields of the far west.

Not a small measure of the success of the photoplay is due to the skillful adaptation of Lucien Hubbard and the directorial shrewdness of William K. Howard. There was no easy task for the transference of popular story to the screen is always attended with a good many difficulties. In this case it was accomplished successfully and the result is a film, replete with adventurous action, flavored with romance and chock-full of pictorial beauty.

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, March 23.—Another flood of selling greeted the new week forcing substantial recessions in stocks of all classes. Heavy pressure was exerted against the whole market at the start of trading and the decline proceeded steadily throughout the list. The first four hours attaining considerable volume in the leading industrial issues, including American Can, Baldwin, American Locomotive, General Electric, East Iron Pipe and Steel Company.

Indication of better support was observed in the last hour reflecting accumulation by the big banking interests in the belief that the break in prices was entirely due to conditions within the market and not to any change in the business outlook. In view of the extensive character of the decline in the last week experienced observers expressed the belief that this impairment of the technical situation must have been to a large degree collected.

DREAM FULFILLED IN ROAD OPENING

guests and introduced men prominent in pushing forward the accomplishment of a long-cherished desire to bind together the beach communities with a direct and short route.

P. A. Stanton, the first president of the South Coast Improvement association, told of trials and tribulations of the organization because of inharmonious among the various beach communities, until finally the spirit of cooperation descended upon the various and the slogan was adopted: "All for one and one for all."

The speaker told of the accomplishments brought about through a $7000 advertising campaign, which today he said would cost $20,000. As a consequence all communities prospered.

Not easily satisfied, however, and even a dirt from Naples to Long Beach was difficult to attain. Formerly it was 14 miles from Seal Beach to Long Beach, now it is four. Now Balboa has been made easy of access by the new road, where formerly Long Beach people had to go by way of Santa Ana.

T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors of Orange county, to whom tribute was paid by the chairman, said that he had been working for 14 years to get this road. He gave credit for the conception of the idea to the board of supervisors of Ventura, and of the Automobile Club of Southern California for also putting its shoulder to the wheel, together with the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and city council and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, all of whom assisted in putting this link in the chain of the Coast highway.

U. S. District Engineer Finch said that the highways are feeders to Newport Harbor, and that his heart was set upon seeing it a real port. Lewis Everding, state highway commissioner, representing the northern part of California, sent telegram of greeting and congratulation. He gave credit for making the last highway link to N. T. Edwards, of Orange, member of the state highway commission from the south to whom many honors were given on Saturday and expressed the hope that this link would be the tie to bind the neighboring beach cities closer and stronger. The artesian wells, the electric road and the fine bay will be factors in a development which will greatly surprise the people in 10 years, the commissioner predicted.

Bringing greetings from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Charles Bayer predicted great things for the communities connected by this link in the next 25 years. He stated that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce had as much interest here as in Los Angeles, various statements to the contrary notwithstanding, and that Los Angeles cannot prosper unless the surrounding country prospers.

Gen. Lansing H. Beach, former chief of staff, U. S. army engineers, who received an ovation when called upon by Mayor Wilson, stated that, while he had not been in Orange county long, he wanted to be counted as one of those who had imbued the spirit of progress. He urged that the country be opened up so that strangers can see it.

The bay, he said was a pretty body of water, and has great possibilities which should be pushed to the limit.

Cost of Highway

Commissioner Edwards gave a brief history of the building of the highway, which was begun Feb. 15, 1924, and finished December 15 of the same year. It was accepted by the California state highway commission on Jan. 3, 1925 and comprises 8.2 miles from Huntington Beach to Corona del Mar. It is of standard concrete and 20 feet wide and cost $250,000. The two bridges were built by Orange county at a cost of about $10,000. The commissioner stated that the money is in hand to pave to Serra as soon as rights-of-way are obtained and plans and specifications made, the work to begin in two months. When the entire highway from Oxnard to Santa Monica and from Long Beach to Serra is complete, the outlay will have been $4,000,000, and he assured the Ventura county people, present, that they would soon have their link.

Edwards predicted future heavy traffic in Southern California, said his heart was with the Coast highway and that he would stay on the commission until it was finished.

Answering a suggestion by Phil Stanton of subdivisions of big properties, James Irvine sr., prefaced his remarks by saying that not so many years ago he had offered a Seal Beach man some of his land at $50 or $60 an acre. He said that he is not averse to subdivision, and that his company stands ready to open up the Irvine ranch as soon as the time is ripe, but that water is the great problem.

Movie Star Speaks

Then came the hit of the event, the clever little talk by Miss Belle Bennett, of the Goldwyn studios of Los Angeles, who a few moments before had cut the ribbon to open the new bridge.

The actress told of the thrill she got when witnessing "The Iron Horse," the picture which shows the meeting of the two great railroads, joining hands the east with the west, and the wish expressed that she might see such a thrilling scene. The next day Miss Bennett was asked to participate in the ceremonies incident to the opening of a modern concrete highway.

As a contributing agency toward the building of the new road, the Automobile club of Southern California was represented by Mr. Rathbun, who said that the club could be depended upon to assist in all constructive matters. He told of the sign-posting campaign, signs being established at Knappa City, El Paso and Omaha, all of which would contribute to travel in Southern California. He said that travel by automobile was increasing by leaps and bounds, and as many people were coming in cars as by train.

T. G. Gabbert of the board of supervisors of Ventura county, invited that everybody visit that county when its link was finished and see the difficulties overcome by the engineers and highway commission along the way where the mountains meet the sea.

John Arnold of the Long Beach city council gave the honors to Mr. Condit, who said he came from New Jersey, where for years the only passable roads were toll roads. He expressed pleasure that there was no gate between Long Beach and Newport, and predicted big dividends from the connecting link.

Saying that he never did think a town at the end of a one-way road could amount to anything, Mayor L. R. Ridenour, of Huntington Beach, expressed satisfaction with the improvement, which gives that thriving city quick access to surrounding places.

Commodore Albert Solland of the Yacht club, the last luncheon speaker, told a little ancient history of the outlook around the bay 20 years ago. He urged that the bay be improved for the good of the young people and said there is not greater recreation than the play of the open sea.

The luncheon was given by the city council of Newport Beach.

S. A. JUNIOR CHAMBER SENDS MESSAGE BY PLANE

A letter written by the junior chamber of commerce of Santa Ana, congratulating the Orange county board of supervisors and the state highway commission on the completion of the connecting link, was dropped from Eddie Martin's airplane by William Iverson.

The Latest Balloon Tire Development — The New U.S. "LOW-PRESSURE TREAD"

and How Its Flat Contour Prevents Early and Uneven Tread Wear

The First Tread Ever Designed to Properly Meet the Requirements of a Balloon Tire Operating at the Low-Inflation necessary for Real Balloon Cushioning

IT IS the result of an exhaustive study by U. S. Tire engineers into the causes of early and uneven tread wear on Balloon Tires.

This study demonstrated very clearly that the ordinary round tread is impractical for Balloon Tires.

Due to the peculiar shape a round-tread Balloon Tire takes when under load and moving, and to the consequent working of those parts of the tread on which the weight is concentrated, the tread wears unevenly and quickly in two bands. (Note Tire A.)

The new Flat "Low-Pressure Tread" cures all this. Its flat contour and the larger area of road contact greatly reduces the weight carried per square inch of tread.

There is much less tread distortion and tread movement.

There is better traction. There is also better non-skid protection because the flexible outer row of tread blocks is in full contact with the road, and steering, too, is easier.

But above all, the new Flat "Low-Pressure Tread" permits running the tire on the low inflation necessary to give real Balloon Tire cushioning—without causing early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

Why U. S. Royal Balloon Cords present "The Balloon Tire principle at its Best"

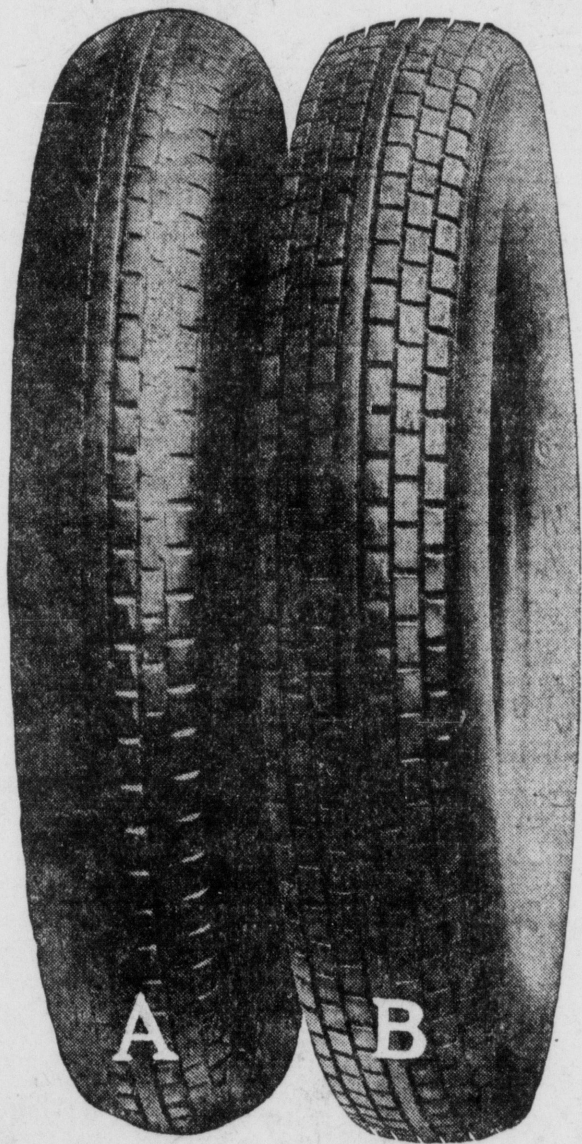

Here is the tire that combines more exclusive points of superiority than any other tire you ever used or heard of: Sprayed Rubber—pure rubber derived direct from the Latex without acids or smoke.

Latex-treated Web-Cord—the only cord construction in which the individual cords are webbed together with pure rubber Latex. Not only strong but extremely flexible, permitting the tire to flex freely without injury even at extremely low air pressures.

Flat Band Method of Building—insuring uniform position and tension of all the cords in the tire.

The New, Flat "Low-Pressure Tread"—adding 22 per cent more tractive surface on the road, doing away with uneven wear, and giving you many more miles out of your tire investment.

Specify U. S. Royal Balloon Cords—"The Balloon Tire principle at its Best."

BOTH of these tires have run approximately the same number of miles, under the same load, and with the same inflation. Tire A has the old round tread. Look how it has worn down on each side. Tire B has the new U. S. Flat "Low-Pressure Tread." Note the slight and even wear over the whole tread, although it has gone over a 1000 miles more than Tire A.

S. A. DEBATERS TO MEET LOS ANGELES

In the third series of league debates in the Southern California conference, Santa Ana Polytechnic high school debaters met the Los Angeles high school team in a verbal clash to be held April 24 in the music auditorium of the high school.

Raymond Grisett and David Roberts compose the team that will represent Santa Ana. It was made known today by Edward Hummel, debating coach at the high school.

A second team is to be sent to Los Angeles for a simultaneous practice meet there, Hummel said. The traveling team is to be named from unexperienced students, who will form the nucleus of next year's debaters. Results of the practice meet will have no effect on league standing.

The negative of the proposition, "Resolved, that the Hydro-electric Superpower Project Be Developed and Controlled by the United States Government," will be taken by the Santa Ana debaters in the clash here with the Los Angeles team.

Work has already begun in preparation for the league tilt. Grisett and Roberts have participated in previous conference meets.

EVANGELIST OPENS MEETING SERIES

Evangelistic meetings to be conducted at the First Baptist church until Easter began yesterday under leadership of Miss Amy Lee Stockton, evangelist, and Miss Lyle Gould, soloist and director of music. Interest was displayed in both the morning and evening service. The chorus choir of the church has been augmented, both platforms of the church being occupied by the members. The service each night will begin with a song service, under leadership of Miss Gould and the choir. Special features have been announced for each night this week. Tonight is "rally night." The organizations of the church and Sunday school are planning to attend the service. Miss Gould will sing "A Starless Crown." The choir is contributing a special number and Miss Stockton is speaking on the subject: "The Greatest Work in All the World." Every afternoon this week at 2:30 the evangelists are conducting a meeting for boys and girls. A contest for attendance was launched this afternoon between the "Hustlers" and the "Rustlers." The evangelists are also getting the young people ready to sing in a great "Rainbow chorus" on Friday night.

Charged with reckless driving, Roberto Jimenez, 21, was found guilty in City Recorder J. F. Talbot's court early today and sentenced to serve 30 days in the Orange county jail, or pay a fine of $75.

S. A. Folk Attend 'Own Home' Meet

Among the 200 men and women present at the "own your home" conference of the California Real Estate association at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, Saturday were a number of Santa Anans. Those in attendance from here were James Livesey, sr., president of the association; Carl Mock, a director of the state association; Everett White, past president of the association; Frank Pope, a vice president of the association and Mrs. Pope.

Appoint New Men On Police Force

F. W. Howard, 523 North Baker street, and W. O. Wilson, 705 South Ross street, are new officers added to the Santa Ana police department. Both took their beats for the first time yesterday.

Neither has held a position on the force before. Howard was formerly an automobile salesman, while Wilson was formerly connected with messenger service. The men take the places made vacant by resignation of William Antoine and the leave of absence granted Jim Smith, last week.

HOLLYWOOD, March 23.—Marguerite De La Motte and John Bowers, film stars, announced their engagement here today, following their return from the east.

Fast 'Flivver' Driver Gets 10-day Term

It was a "flivver" and it was doing 63 miles an hour. Because it was making such speed, not because it was a "flivver," its driver, H. O. Dettmer, 26, of Huntington Park, was given 10 days in the Orange county jail Saturday, by Justice K. E. Morrison.

"And, Dettmer, I wish you would bring that automobile down here with you, I would like to see it," said Morrison.

Dettmer registered at Hotel del Jernigan last night to begin sentence. In the meantime, his steed is parked in the driveway awaiting the release of its owner.

AROUND THE COURTHOUSE

Brief News of Courts and County Officers

Beach Man Changes Plea

Leonard Aguirre, of Huntington Beach, who recently pleaded guilty to a statutory offense and asked probation, had today changed tactics and was preparing to go on trial April 23 at 10 a. m. in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court. Aguirre appeared in court and testified at his hearing on probation. Then he withdrew his plea of guilty and substituted a plea of not guilty.

Oil Workers Acquitted

Circumstantial evidence failed to convict A. Nelson and Willis Burgess, Huntington Beach oil workers, who were late Friday acquitted of a robbery charge by Superior Judge Z. B. West's court.

M. R. Talley, proprietor of a market at Westminster, was unable to identify the two defendants as the armed bandits who entered his place and forced him, at the point of a gun, to give them his cash.

In defense, Nelson and Burgess admitted that they were in Westminster on the evening of the robbery, but explained that they had come to that neighborhood to call upon a young lady friend. They were able to prove that they made such a call.

The jury, after deliberating a short time, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Attorneys Otto Sanaker and Morris Cain represented the defendants. Deputy District Attorney Kenneth Burns appearing for the state.

Constable Is Held

Justice K. E. Morrison Saturday ordered Deputy Constable W. M. Boudin, of Placentia, charged with a statutory offense against Mrs. Nellie Rubio, Placentia restaurant owner, to answer in the superior court.

Mrs. Rubio was on the witness stand throughout Friday, under cross-examination by T. L. McFadden, defense counsel, during most of the time. McFadden failed to shake the woman's story. Saturday, Mrs. Antonio Corrales, waitress employed in the restaurant, testified in corroboration of Mrs. Rubio's evidence, and was likewise grilled by the defense attorney. The defense occupied but a little time presenting its own case.

Wants Marriage Annulled

Claiming that his wife was still legally married to a former husband, when she married him at Minneapolis, Minn., in 1912, Robert M. Charles, of Anaheim, filed suit in the superior court for annulment of his marriage to Nellie Heckman, whom he sued at Nellie Heckman. They separated Feb. 15, 1924. The wife had married James Heckman at La Brea, N. D., in 1919, Charles alleged, and was not divorced from him when she married Charles. Attorney George Varnum, of Anaheim, represents Charles.

Asks Administration Letters

Mrs. Fannie King, Santa Ana, today filed a petition in the superior court, asking letters of administration on the estate of her late husband, W. D. King. The estate is valued at "not exceeding $10,000," according to the petition.

Wants Property Partition

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson E. Vincent had a suit on file today in the superior court against Mr. and Mrs. George B. Roth to partition property situated at Third and French streets, Santa Ana. The Vincents own a half interest, and the Roths a half interest, the latter subject to a $3800 mortgage. It is alleged. Attorneys Harvey and Harvey represent the plaintiffs.

Sues Shell Company

Fernando Contreras, who claims to have been permanently injured, in an automobile wreck near La Habra last August 30, today filed suit in the superior court against the Shell Oil company and an employee, George D. Brown, asking $51,800 damages.

Contreras was riding in a car with Eddie Gulliver, which collided with a machine driven by Brown. Contreras received several fractures and internal injuries.

Foreclosure Suit

The First National bank of Garden Grove was plaintiff today in a superior court action to foreclose an $1800 mortgage on property of J. D. Jones. Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel represent the bank.

Files Appeal

Frank C. Goodrich today had filed an appeal in the superior court from judgment of Justice H. E. Hart, sitting in Fullerton justice court, where an award of $50.32 was made against Goodrich in favor of Fred Davis. Davis had sued for $150.07 for labor. Attorneys Allen and Lyon of Fullerton represent Davis, with Attorneys Ames and McFadden, of Anaheim, appearing for Goodrich.

Let me rebuild your old suit. Hoffman, 603 No. Main.

FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

Newspaper Man Is Injured In Auto Collision

ANAHEIM, March 23.—Norman Henderson, advertising and business manager of a local afternoon paper, was today carrying his right arm in a sling following an automobile accident Saturday evening at which time his arm was cut and he received a severe shaking-up.

His companion, who was driving the car, was not seriously hurt nor was the driver of the other car. Henderson was one of the main boosters for the Junior Chamber of Commerce and was elected director of that organization soon after its inception in Santa Ana.

Proposal Advanced to Take Herd to Lake Elsinore; Stock Bay With Bass

SEAL BEACH, March 23.—The colony of seals and sea lions which has made its home in Alamitos Bay on the Seal Beach side for many years and which has caused many controversies, is to be moved inland to Lake Elsinore, if a plan now under consideration is carried out.

Success of the plan depends on the cooperation of state fisheries officials, officials of Orange county, Los Angeles county and Riverside county, as well as officials of Seal Beach and Long Beach. It was said today by Squire F. Duree, superintendent of recreation of Long Beach.

Complaints by fishermen that the seals destroy many tons of edible fish every season caused Orange county supervisors to revoke an ordinance aimed at their protection. Protests against the action made by tourists and others, however, caused the city of Seal Beach to enact an ordinance designed to protect the colony and the fishermen bent upon their destruction.

Lake Elsinore, it has been decided, would be an ideal place for the seals, where they could carp at their heart's content and since carp is not sought by humans for food, would do the seals no particular damage. With the seals removed from Alamitos bay the latter could be stocked by the state with bass and other edible fish. It was pointed out by Duree, the colony numbers about 75 seals and sea lions now, but there will be several hundred here next month when the seal families come down from their mating grounds in the north to spend the summer here.

CLEAN-UP DAY AT LAGUNA TO BE PERMANENT

LAGUNA BEACH, March 23.—Tourists who take advantage of the new Coast Highway, after its formal opening to this place about May 15, will find a Laguna Beach "Spotless Town" of the South Pacific Coast.

Starting with a Cleanup Week, April 6 to 11, the public welfare committee of the chamber of commerce will have the beach and parks cleaned every time they have been littered by a crowd and the sanitary board has promised to lend every assistance possible.

Howard G. Heisler, president of the chamber of commerce, has called upon the people of Laguna Beach to back the chamber in its drive for a clean town. Where the property owners live out of town, letters will be sent and if there is no response the premises will be cleaned, and a report on the matter made to the county authorities. If the owners reside in Laguna Beach and fail to clean their premises, a committee of the chamber of commerce will wait upon them to learn the reason.

The welfare committee is making plans for the cleanup week drive that will include a visit to every lot in Laguna Beach. Two members will be added to the committee to assist in the work.

Particular attention will be paid to the beach and the parks. Alterations are being made to the plans for the new Chamber of Commerce building so as to include a basement rest room, to be paid for out of the Sanitary District funds. The plans were drawn by Frank W. Cuppion, Laguna Beach artist, who is a director of the chamber of commerce, and accepted from a large number submitted. It is hoped to have the building finished by the time the coast highway is opened. The building will be situated on the chamber of commerce property on First avenue and directional signs will guide visitors to it. Among the activities will be a bureau of information to guide strangers to the homes of residents.

START WORK ON $50,000 LODGE HOME IN TUSTIN

TUSTIN, March 23.—Work was started this morning on the erection of a $50,000 home for the local Knights of Pythias lodge.

The building will be a two story brick affair located on the corner of Main and D streets.

According to plans for the building, five store rooms will be included on the floor plan. Two of the store rooms will front on D street and three on Main street. Several rooms have already been leased.

The upper floor of the structure, which will be 52 feet wide and 135 feet long, will be devoted entirely to the lodge. A large hall suitable for all lodge purposes, with an excellent dance floor, and a stage at one end, will be included as will also a large banquet room, lounge, kitchen and rest room.

The building is to be built of brick with a fancy front facing both the highway and Main street. Work is to be completed in July.

The building is only one of many improvements in both the business and residential district. Work was recently completed on a large addition to the local bakery. The addition is made of brick, and provided a large store room, a large display room and ovens. The cost was about $30,000.

Work was also recently completed on the Tustin Auto Repair shop and the Tustin Machine Works, located on the corner of First and C streets. Clint Hawkins is the proprietor of the new garage while Mathew Chum has opened the tool and farm implement store. An expenditure of about $40,000 is represented in the two buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Forney have recently moved into their new home on Mountain View Drive. The home was completed by Louis Brach local man at a cost of about $6,000.

COSTA MESA MAN DIES AT L. A. HOME

COSTA MESA, March 23.—Albert Knopf, for many years a land owner in this section and one of the original settlers of the San Gabriel Valley, died Saturday evening at his home at Los Angeles. He was learned here today.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the University Methodist church in Los Angeles. Besides his wife, Mr. Knopf leaves two sons, Albert and Carl, the latter a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California.

Eucalyptus Grove At Bolsa Catches Ablaze, Is Checked

BOLSA, March 23.—Quite a conflagration was started in the 10-acre eucalyptus grove a half mile west and a quarter north of Bolsa when a crew of men started a fire to clear out the underbrush which would hinder the progress of cutting. The fire soon assumed alarming proportions. Luckily the flames burned down somewhat before night but small fires still continued to spring up even the following morning. The grove, which was sold by Walter Hest about two years ago, is the property of a Long Beach man.

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

ALL RIGHT, TUBBS. WE'LL TAKE THE SCENE NOW WHERE YOU'RE THROWN IN THE LION PEN.

OW! I FEEL SICK! A'READY.

NOW, DON'T WORRY. THE SCENARIO SAYS YOU'RE TO BITE THE LION INSTEAD OF THE LION BITIN' YOU. UNDERSTAND?

YEH. BUT I BET THEM LIONS DON'T.

COME—COME! DON'T BE AFRAID. THEY WAS RAISED ON A BOTTLE.

SO WAS I BUT I EAT MEAT NOW. NOSSR! THEM LIONS IS TOO HUNGRY LOOKIN'.

THERE'S NO DANGER. WHY, THEY WOULDN'T HARM A FLEA.

MEBBE NOT. BUT I AIN'T A FLEA!

EVENING SALUTATION

The bright hours pass like birds on pinions golden,
And leave their empty nests in Memory's halls;
And in the past, with all its mysteries olden,
Oblivion, like a twilight, o'er them falls.
They have sweet songs to cheer, they have glad voices,
Their flashing wings like flaming sunbeams burn;
But, ah! e'en while the listening ear rejoices,
They speed away and never more return!

EXPRESS EDITOR SEES IT, TOO

Can it be true? Can it be that Los Angeles or any portion of Los Angeles or anybody in Los Angeles really sees it?

We are speaking now of the reapportionment matter, action upon which is now four years overdue. The one big reason why action is four years overdue is that Los Angeles legislators have insisted on trying to get through a measure by which Los Angeles will gain numerous legislators. They have demanded for Los Angeles everything in sight rather than be content with any kind of a compromise bill.

Viewing with an alarm that was real the growing domination of the big cities of the state, the counties not numbered as representing or represented by big cities have insisted that the State Constitution should be amended so that there could be a limitation upon the number of State Senators any county could have. The theory of this representation is the same as the theory for the basis of representation of states in the United States Senate.

Everybody outside the large cities could see the justice in the movement. Those who control the political thoughts and doings of Los Angeles scoffed at the notion of these small counties—described as "the cow counties" because they represented the farming areas as distinguished from skyscraper control. But gradually the idea is sinking in. It is gaining ground. It has even impressed itself upon the mind of a Los Angeles newspaper editor, for the Los Angeles Express has come out editorially endorsing the plan as feasible and equitable. Yes, it's true! Somebody in Los Angeles can see it the same as we do.

GET READY FOR ROUNDUP

It is about time for our annual roundup. In the days when the Santa Ana valley was in the hands of Mexican dons, the spring roundup was quite an occasion. In those days cattle and horses were rounded up and branded. Nowadays in the springtime we content ourselves with something far less romantic and spectacular—we round up the stray dogs and kill 'em.

How do we know that the roundup of the festive canine is about due? Here's how; it's a dispatch, reading as follows:

PASADENA, March 21.—Four dogs examined by the Pasadena health department within the last month have been found suffering from rabies, declares Dr. F. W. Hodgdon Jr. in a warning statement to the public. At the same time J. M. DeMerritt, field officer of the Pasadena Humane Society, warned that all untagged dogs will be destroyed.

It is our guess that it won't be long now until somebody in Orange county will be bitten by a dog, and it will be found that the dog was suffering from rabies. Immediately, there will be a great deal of publicity about the killing of stray dogs. We may expect proclamations from the health officers, and mandates from the sheriff and the police chief. Perhaps there may be muzzles. It will be very dangerous to be a dog.

STILL ARGUING IT

Crossword puzzles, it seems, not only are a mental stimulus but conducive to good health. In that excellent little pamphlet, "Chicago's Health," issued by Chicago's health department, they are termed the "mental daily dozen."

"Health of mind," it points out, "is of as much consequence to happiness and well being as is health of body. A rational cycle of work, study, relaxation and amusement is essential to the health of mind."

"To solve a crossword puzzle requires mental alertness, concentration and strict application to order and rules. Moreover, it's great fun. Activity is increased under the influence of pleasant feelings, giving a stronger heart beat, stirring the glands to better performance and invigorating the organs of the body."

Let the crossword skeptics digest this.

RUNNING THE COLLIERY

Miners, said Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain, should get a colliery and run it themselves.

And now they have taken Baldwin at his word. Workers of the Vauxhall colliery, in North Wales, have arranged with the management to conduct the business on their own.

The colliery owners lost about a hundred thousand dollars in the last four years and had decided to close the works, but the 650 men and boys employed there made a pact by which it is to be carried on by a guaranty fund subscribed by the employees and the people of the district.

It is the first experiment of its kind in Great Britain, one which, if it is successful, may affect the relationship of capital and labor throughout Great Britain's mining industry.

POLITICAL REFORM

A political revival is undertaken by the National American Civic Federation. It has formed a non-partisan department of politics, under the leadership of Elihu Root and Alton B. Parker, and is starting in to promote more general voting and genuine party government.

It is said that 30,000,000 qualified American voters failed to vote in the 1924 election. This is bad enough in itself. It is less important how many citizens vote than how intelligently they vote; yet numbers matter because they indicate the interest taken in public affairs. Without such interest, widespread and regularly registered, good government is not to be expected.

Of more immediate interest to most citizens is the effort for a more definite expression of our traditional two-party system than we have had in recent years. There is fear that our system of government would be imperilled by "the group or many-party system" common in Europe. As our historic parties break up or lose their effectiveness, there develops a sort of legislative and administrative paralysis. Hide-bound partisanship and absolute regularity are bad, but perhaps this disintegration is worse. If government is to be responsible and efficient, there must be party organization that means something.

The difficulty is that the parties themselves seem to mean less than they used to. When they come again to stand for two sets of definite and vital issues, we may have the old coherence and efficiency again.

Perhaps strong leadership would create such issues, and then the rank and file would fall in and march along.

OLD BUTTONS

Archaeologists have been digging up antique hairpins and buttons in Carthage. Plenty of other people are going to comment on the hairpins, so let us consider the buttons.

They are of a sort strange to modern times. Their material is the same as that commonly used now—polished bone. But instead of two or four holes in the center, there is only one, a rather large one.

And how, you ask, could those old-time Carthaginian women sew on buttons with only one hole? They couldn't. A learned archaeologist explains that they must have drawn the cloth of the garment through the hole and spiked it with a pin.

So from the description, those Carthaginian dames used on their dresses the same principle that the modern American male uses, when he finds a button missing from his trousers and adopts the simple expedient of fastening his galluses with a nail.

Caught In The Act

San Bernardino Sun.
Angelinos are good advertisers, but now and then they overreach themselves. This time it is San Diego whose thunder they have been stealing, and the Union is the editorial Sherlock Holmes who solves the mystery. It seems that the commercial and financial map published periodically in a national magazine did not exactly suit the Los Angeles idea of being at the head of the procession. All the time, and it took certain liberties with it. But the Union tell the story:

In the Los Angeles map, the white spot by which the national chamber of commerce designated prosperous San Diego has been moved slightly north, the name San Diego has been omitted—and as a result the map seems to give Los Angeles the place of honor which San Diego has earned for several successive months.

Upon the original map, published in the Merchants' Directory of The Nation's Business, the only two white spots in the west are given to San Diego and Phoenix, Ariz.

Though the Los Angeles publisher has been careful to omit names, the Los Angeles map, by plain inference—by a statement just as plain as though it had been made in words, rather than in a sketch—takes the white spot away from San Diego and bestows it generously upon the northern city.

The ancient feud between Los Angeles and San Diego has long lapsed into history, and it ought to stay there. This topographical thievery belongs to the era of the horse-car and the plug hat, and the days when Los Angeles hotel clerks were instructed to describe San Diego as a hell-hole of a seacoast desert. We thought Ellyay had outgrown that policy.

"Ellyay" has not outgrown the policy of taking anything that its neighbors may have which it wants, whether that be a white spot on the map or merely something substantial and commercial. Its journals do not hesitate to twist the facts to keep up appearances. It is well known that bank clearings and building permits in Los Angeles are not up to what they were in January and February of 1924, while in San Diego, San Bernardino, Phoenix and a few other places in the Southwest the figures equal or exceed those of a year ago. The San Diego contemporary merely puts its finger on a spot slightly sore.

More Settlers Wanted

Fresno Republican.
Eighteen thousand settlers will be needed shortly on U. S. Government reclamation projects. Secretary of the Interior Work is reported as declaring, asking the assistance of labor organizations to get people to these farms.

The need of settlers, if reclamation projects are to be handled, is obvious. But it is to be hoped that the Government, and the organizations that might be influential in getting settlers for the projects, will learn the lessons that have been made available by previous settlement efforts.

One is that reclamation projects are highly capitalized undertakings, an depend for their success upon both productions and marketing. Markets production alone has been considered, not markets. The soil, the water, the climate have been studied, not the transportation and the sales conditions.

Men could, in primeval days, go into the woods or even onto the plains and make a living without capital, if they did not have to pay for the land. They lived poorly in social advantages, but they might at least have plenty to eat, and enough to wear to keep warm.

But a reclamation project involves high cost of preparing land for the first crop. It calls for acute living conditions, the struggle against extremes of heat and cold, as well as drought. It takes hundreds of thousands of men not into the edges of civilization, but into spots far removed from civilization. It puts women and children into an isolation that may be very hard for them.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON
WHAT IS SLEEP?
He who is in full possession of his health should enjoy sound refreshing sleep.

The waste products of bodily activity, that is, the daily elimination of all cell and tissue changes thrown off by respiration and the processes of renewal and repair appear to be the real factors which cause sleep. On these waste products in a large measure depends the distribution of the blood.

The lessening of the blood supply to the brain is no longer regarded as a factor of great importance in producing sleep. While the blood pressure is not materially changed, the heart action may be said to enjoy a slight decrease during sleep.

How much is enough sleep? The modern theory is that you need all you can get. If you have a good bed, eight hours ought to be a fair average. It is a physiological fact, proven in thousands of cases by careful experiment, that we need all we can get and should take all we can use.

Women need an hour more of sleep than men as a usual rule. Most of them usually get less.

One's best sleep is with the stomach practically empty. It is true that food puts one to sleep at first by diverting blood from the head but it disturbs sleep later.

The character of sleep depends largely on the mental attitude upon going to bed. One should get into the habit of absolutely dropping work and care at bed time.

When the oxygen balance in the tissues is restored, when the daily fatigue poisons are eliminated or burned up by the oxygen, and when the worn-out cells are replaced, you'll wake—rested and refreshed. You wouldn't want any more sleep, even if you could get it.

The World Is Growing Better--and More Difficult

Make Business Better

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

Agriculture is one of the basic industries. In fact, it is the most important of all productive endeavors. Agriculture is looking up. This is true in California, as well as in the Middle West and throughout the United States. The improvement extends to the livestock branch of this business.

Another important basic industry is steel. Steel enters into so many different forms of construction, including railroads, steamships, bridges, buildings of various descriptions, and an endless list of manufactured articles, that it is looked upon as the most dependable gauge, next to agriculture, of economic conditions. Steel also is looking up. The chief corporation dealing in this commodity reports large additions to unfilled orders, the increase exceeding predictions and reflecting a good growth of demand throughout the country.

With two such dependable witnesses as agriculture and steel testifying to the better times which have arrived, a complete restoration of confidence on the part of the public should be noted. The lack of such confidence, more than anything else, is responsible for the lingering traces of depression which may be noted in certain trades and in certain communities. Where doubt exists, there is hesitancy to engage in the ordinary pursuits of business, and the effect of this withholding of patronage is felt in the entire economic structure. If people who, having the ability to buy, refuse even to contract for their actual needs, they are adversely affecting the retailer, the wholesaler, the railroad, the manufacturer and those who supply the raw materials.

That a better feeling exists among the great majority of the people must be granted by the statements which come from the farming and industrial centers. That portion of the public which still finds it difficult to be hopeful and of good cheer should get in step with those who are ascending the grade toward the nearby summit of complete readjustment and healthful prosperity.

Worth While Verse

THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY

Heaven is full of stars tonight; the earth Lies hushed, as she shall lie some day, perhaps,
When life and death no longer trouble her—
No voice, no cry in the whole countryside.
The empty road rambles through field and thicket,
And in the road are prints of hoof and foot:
Along the surface of this lonely planet,
Now naked to the hunger of the stars,
Man and beast, on the old pilgrimage.
They passed together here—not long ago.
What was it they were looking for I wonder,
Or if, themselves, they knew? Where were they going?

Footsteps—always footsteps going somewhere—
What country is it that they all are seeking,
Who up and down the world by night or day
Move with such patience, always to one end?

Not the least sound. Not the least leaf disturbs
The immemorial majesty of heaven.
Footprints—only footprints going somewhere.
Wherever they were going, they are gone.

—John Hall Wheelock, in the Yale Review.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Page

Mr. Parkins was coming to see my sister Gladis last night, and after supper Gladis sed, O, mother, by the way, by the way, father, I wish you would do me a favor to-night by not alluding to the sitting room.

Wy not, wy? ma sed.
Has some terrible crime bin committed up there? pop sed, and Gladis sed, No, certainly not, but nobody calls it the sitting room any more, everybody speaks of it as the living room nowadays and I don't want Mr. Parkins to think we are so dreadfully old fashioned. Besides, sitting room sounds so cramped and uncomfortable, while living room sounds more spacious and roomy, she sed.

I don't see anything roomy and spacious about a hole family living in one room, ma sed.

It's a good idea but I don't think it goes far enough, pop sed. I think we awt to also call it the think of it, so at least as far as Mr. Parkins is concerned it cant do any harm, she sed.

Now Willyum thats going to ixtremes, ma sed. After all, most of our friends speak of their living room, now that I come to think of it, so at least as far as Mr. Parkins is concerned it cant do any harm, she sed.

O well, Im a broad minded man and its no use of me trying to hide the fact, pop sed. Meaning he didnt care weather they called it the living room or not, and pritty soon Mr. Parkins rang the bell and pop opened the front door, saying, Good evening, Mr. Parkins, come on up in the living and make yourself comfortable till Gladis is ready.

Wy this suddin formality? I love the old fashion sound of sitting room and it always pleased me so to think there was at least one left in the world, Mr. Parkins sed.

Well there is, bleeve me, pop sed. Meaning thats wat hes going to call it.

IN THE LONG AGO

14 Years Ago Today
From the Register Files

MARCH 23, 1911.
Sheriff's deputies began search for persons responsible for the tearing up of six rails of the Pacific Electric track on South Glass street, Orange.

The Rev. J. A. Stevenson of Santa Ana was tendered a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles. The Rev. Mr. Stevenson has not announced whether he will accept the call.

The Williams Jubilee Singers will appear in a concert at Spurgeon's hall here under the auspices of the Epworth league of the First Methodist church.

A light drizzle began falling in Santa Ana this morning. Despite efforts of the local church to have the city prohibit the showing here of "The Girl From Rectors," musical comedy, the production will play here tonight.

Three Santa Anans, Frank Leonard, Mrs. Alice Leonard and Dwinell Leonard, inherited money when the will of Frank Dwinell was probated in Brooklyn, N. Y. The first two named were left $1000 each, while Dwinell Leonard received $500.

Assemblyman Analyzes his Reapportionment Measure

Reapportionment of legislative district is such vital importance to the future welfare of the state that the legislature should give it the most serious consideration and in doing so our purpose should be so unselfish that our action could not be seriously seriously questioned by anyone whether this civilization lasts 100, 1000 or 10,000 years, glory should be reflected to our state and wisdom and honor to us.

The district are now mostly within the rural counties, but on account of the rapid growth of the large cities, the three large counties now contain more than one-half of the population of the state. Therefore, we find that 3 per cent of the territory would control both houses upon a population basis. To avoid this situation the legislature has reapportioned since 1912, but the constitution still stands on population. This has caused forth much thought and study by men all over the state.

In the session of 1923, I introduced an amendment which considered territory as well as population, but it seemed to be untimely and nothing was done. The introduction of nine reapportionment measures in this session indicates a lively interest. I have finally gotten into a measure that seems to satisfy a majority of the legislators. Our present law classifies the counties according to population. The Heisinger plan as provided in A. C. No. 17 fixes this classification in the constitution and places a limit upon the several classes. Its results will be the least possible disturbance to present conditions and will fix a splendid balance as between the big cities and the rural counties.

Its provisions as amended would give Los Angeles county not more than eight senators and 21 assemblymen; San Francisco not more than seven senators and 18 assemblymen; Alameda county not more than four senators and 10 assemblymen; Fresno, San Diego and Santa Clara counties each not less than two senators and two assemblymen; Sacramento, San Joaquin, San Bernardino counties each one senator and two assemblymen; Orange, Tulare, Kern, Contra Costa, Sonoma and Riverside counties each one senator and one assemblyman.

The remaining 43 counties shall have 10 senators with no district containing more than five counties. The counties of Stanislaus, Imperial, Santa Barbara, Solano, Humboldt, San Mateo, Butte, Ventura, Monterey, Marin, Santa Cruz, Merced, Mendocino, Kings and San Luis Obispo, each one assemblyman, the remaining 28 counties would have nine assemblymen with no more than four counties in any district.

It provides that a small isolated county may be added to an adjoining district.

The plan is very popular with the people, but to get two-thirds of both houses to see alike is a difficult problem.

Personally, I believe that we who live in the 15 larger counties which now have 30 senators should have no desire to take any one of the 10 senators from the smaller 43 counties, and that we in the 30 larger counties, which under this plan will get 71 assemblymen, should not covet any one of the nine assemblymen which the smaller 28 counties will have. In legislation, as in business or in other walks of life, right instead of might should prevail. I believe if we apply the Golden Rule in politics it will yield its precious harvest as effectively as in any other branch of life. I believe the present legislature is composed of competent, conscientious persons, therefore, relying on their fairness and unselfishness, I am confidently expecting No. 17 to be adopted and to finally be approved by the people.

S. L. HEISINGER,
Assemblyman, 52nd district,
Sacramento, March 3, 1925.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission of Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

MONDAY

Read Lk. 10:38-42. Text: 10:41. Thou art anxious and troubled about many things.

MEDITATION—Life ever tends to become complex. We undertake to do too many things and are too hurried in our preparation. Jesus commended Mary for sitting at his feet and learning the lessons of life and at the same time cautioned Martha about her anxieties. That we might take time to think and to plan our lives with care! Then we should not so frequently lack peace and self-control.

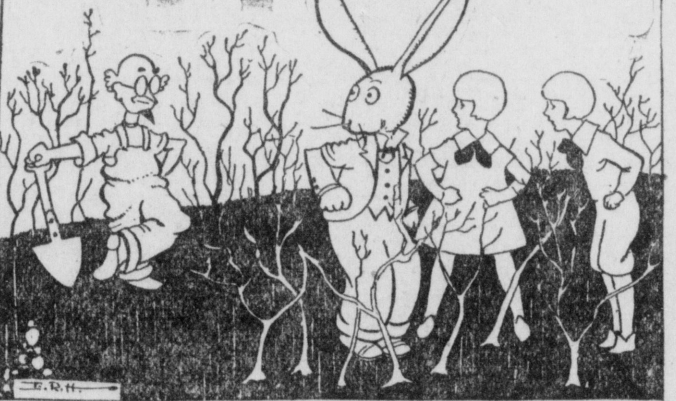

"Thine own self-will and anxiety, thy hurry and thy labor, disturb thy peace and prevent Me from working in thy life. Look at the flowers, they quietly open their petals and the sun shines into them with gentle influences. So will I do for thee, if thou wilt yield thyself to Me."

PRAYER—O Lord, Thou art as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. Support us all the day long, and as the shadows lengthen and the feverish work of the day is done, grant us time to think of thee and of thy mercy and love. Help us to choose the best part and to yield our lives to the life-giving power. Amen.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 13—SPRING MEDICINE

"What are we going to do next?" asked Nick. "Has spring started?"

"Yes," said the March Hare. "Spring has started but there is still much to be done. Much! So we'd better be getting at it."

"What?" asked Nick curiously. "I thought we had attended to everything."

"The sassafras has to be dug," said the March Hare. "Also the sulphur and molasses has to be mixed. It's the best spring medicine in the world."

"Oh, ho!" laughed Nick. "Maybe that's so, but everybody simply hates it."

"You are not telling me anything I don't know," said the March Hare. "We usually do hate the things that are good for us."

All the time that they were talking the March Hare had been galloping along and pretty soon they came to a place where a lot of little low trees with very green branches were growing. No—not a leaf was to be seen, or a bud—it was too soon for that—but every tiny branch looked as though it had been painted with bright green paint.

The March Hare stopped and began to nibble. "Yes, this is it," he said positively. "This is certainly it," and he reached up for another nibble.

"What is it? And what's what?" asked Nick. "Sassafras," said the March Hare. "Hop off, children, we're there."

"Huh!" said Nick. "This doesn't look at all like the sassafras mother buys in market. That's a sort of brownish red and it comes tied in little bundles."

"Just listen!" said the March Hare impatiently. "When people

Dr. Snuffles laughed. "I promise," he said.
